CHINESE INFLICTING HEAVY LOSSES ON JAPANESE FORCES

Enemy Recovers From Setback and Continues Advance Into China—Halted in Lungling Area—United States Flyers Set Fire to Planes on Airdrome in Daylight Raid

LONDON, May 13 (AP).—Veterans of the China wars under the personal direction of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek braced their lines tonight against a reinforced Japanese penetration of their soil while isolated, exhausted Chinese and British forces held stubbornly to the last few bits of Burma.

After suffering a temporary but bloody setback, the Japanese advance guard on the Burma Road was reported in a Chinese communique from Chungking to have penetrated at least fifty miles inside China's backyard at Lungling and to have pushed on towards Paoshan, fifty miles deeper inside Yunnan Province. The major objective of this drive supposedly is Kunming, capital of the province, and China terminus of the true Burma Road.

HALT IN LUNGLING

A Chungking spokesman said, however, that the Japanese in the Lungling area have made no progress since yesterday, and expressed the opinion that they might not try to advance farther because of the heavy casualties they have suffered.

While Chiang's seasoned troops fought this new incursion, other bypassed units of Lieut.-Gen. Joseph Stilwell's Chinese force were slashing at the enemy's thin communication lines in Northern Burma.

The Chinese High Command said Chinese units had disrupted Japanese communications between the Mandalay-Lashio area and Bhamo and Myitkyina to the north.

BERLIN CLAIMS

The Berlin radio issued a Tokio claim that three Chungking divisions have been annihilated in the Burma fighting and named them as the 58th, 80th and 200th. The remnants still fighting in Burma were

BATTLE IS INTENSIFIED

Germans Reported Chiefly Concerned With Northern Route to Russia

LONDON, May 13 (AP).—Hitler's 35,000-ton battleship Tirpitz may lead the German battle squadron out of Trondheim at any time and the ensuing battle with British and Allied heavy warships will be the "largest naval engagement of the war in Europe," an informed quarter said today.

The almost continuous battle of the Arctic, where the Germans are trying to close the northern supply route to Russia, has been intensified lately as lengthening days give German aircraft more time for reconnaissance, and the southward drift of polar ice narrows the passage to the Soviet ports.

The Germans claimed today that bombers sank an 8,000-ton freighter and a small coaster and damaged four large transports in the latest engagement along Norway's Arctic coast and in the harbor at Murmansk.

LIGHT FORCES FAIL

British authorities say Hitler is failing to destroy the British convoys with his light forces, submarines and airplanes, however, and that Admiral Erich Raeder will be forced to use his only battleship that is known to be whole, the Tirpitz, plus the pocket battleship Admiral Scheer and the cruiser Hipper, both also at Trondheim, against some future convoy.

"When he does the Allied squadrons will be waiting. The Germans will be extremely lucky if they get a single large ship back to port," an informed source declared.

The danger point of the Arctic route is off North Cape, Norway, where the Germans attack both by air and by sea.

Informed quarters said the Germans are more concerned now with the northern route to Russia than any other. They have ordered their crack U-boat commanders from the North Atlantic to attack this road and the number of destroyers, submarines and bombers in the area is steadily increasing.

MAY PUT SHIPS OUT OF ACTION

London Hears Laval Willing To Immobilize War Vessels at Martinique

LONDON, May 14 (Thursday) (AP).—Informed sources said today that the Vichy Chief of Government, Pierre Laval, in a note to the United States regarding the status of Martinique, had agreed to immobilize three French warships there, the aircraft carrier Bearn, and the cruisers Emile Bertin and Jeanne d'Arc.

The Berlin radio broadcast a Vichy dispatch in which it said the United States had also demanded that Vichy turn over a number of French merchant ships now in Caribbean ports, but that France would refuse this request because her armistice with Germany forbids such a transaction.

ORDER TO SCUTTLE

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—Germany has forbidden Vichy to part with 140,000 tons of merchant shipping in French Martinique, and has given orders to "scuttle the ships if necessary," The Daily Mail said today in a dispatch datelined on the French frontier.

"American demands aimed at neutralizing Martinique are believed to include the disarming of warships," the dispatch said. "American garrisons also are to be stationed at strategic points in the islands."

Send Women Overseas in Near Future

VANCOUVER, May 13 (CP).—Maj.-Gen. H. F. G. Letson, adjutant-general of the Canadian Army, said here today on his arrival by plane from Ottawa that units of the Canadian Women's Army Corps will be sent overseas in the near future.

Maj.-Gen. Letson is here on an inspection tour and will leave Thursday night for Victoria. He said that units of the Women's Army Corps which will be sent to England will carry on work done by the corps in Canada and so release men to fighting units.

OFFERS HIMSELF FOR HALF-MILLION

Escaped French Military Leader Bargains for Release of Prisoners of War

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—Reuter's reported today in a dispatch datelined "on the German frontier" that Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, French military leader who escaped from the German Koenigstein fortress, has offered to return there in exchange for release of 500,000 French prisoners of war.

Giraud's offer was said to have been made to Gen. Otto von Stuelpnagel, German military administrator for Occupied France, in a meeting arranged at the instigation of the Vichy Chief of Government Pierre Laval.

General Von Stuelpnagel was astonished, the sources of this story said, and ended the conversation "abruptly."

Canadian Convoy Safe in England

Thousands of Reinforcements Cross Atlantic Guarded by British and United States Warships—British Columbia Regiment Included in New Formations

A BRITISH PORT, May 13 (CP).—New formations for the Canadian armored corps and thousands more reinforcements for the Dominion's land and air forces have arrived in Britain to join the mighty Allied military machine being assembled for an offensive against the Axis.

The first representatives of Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington's division to come to Britain—special detachments of officers and men of seven regiments and squadrons for divisional and brigade headquarters—were included in an armored force which crossed the Atlantic in company with reinforcements for almost every Canadian army unit in Britain.

R.C.A.F. CONTINGENT

A Royal Canadian Air Force contingent, one of the largest of the war, included men for every air force job, all eager to join the Summer offensive against Germany. Ground staff and air crew personnel arrived in almost equal numbers.

The big grey troopships brought the Canadians into port after an Atlantic crossing, which veteran convoy travelers called the best of the war. British and United States warships provided an imposing escort during an uneventful voyage.

The armored troops, which will go to camp in Southern England for special training, included among others, representatives of the Elgin Regiment, the British Columbia Regiment, the South Alberta Regi-

JAPANESE ARE OVER-PLAYFUL

Mischievous Outburst Takes Place in Vancouver Immigration Building

VANCOUVER, May 13 (CP).—A number of Japanese smashed windows and turned loose a fire hose at the Immigration Building, where they are being held here, late today in the first outbreak of its kind since the start of the Pacific war, but Austin C. Taylor, chairman of the British Columbia Security Commission, termed the outburst "more playful than anything else."

Mr. Taylor said the trouble apparently had been caused by the fact the Japanese housed in the building had been refused daily conversations with friends outside. He added these Japanese are shortly to be moved to road camps in the Interior of the province.

The outbreak, in which windows on the upper floor of the building were smashed, an iron window grating pushed into the street and a fire hose turned on a guard below, was quelled shortly after the outburst.

Tonight army guards with fixed bayonets patrolled along railway tracks in front of the building, while some Japanese still looked out of the smashed windows on the second and third floors, shouting occasionally.

MOVING JAPANESE

SEATTLE, May 13 (AP).—Evacuation of all Japanese remaining in Seattle—both aliens and American-born—will begin tomorrow morning and be concluded Saturday noon. After that time, no one of Japanese blood will be permitted within the city limits under the military order

FIVE DEAD AS STORM'S TOLL

Extensive Damage Done to Farms in Nebraska By Tornado

NORFOLK, Neb., May 13 (AP).—The toll of a tornado that cut a destructive swath through Northeastern Nebraska last night stood at five persons dead and three injured today as farmers took count of the extensive damage inflicted on their livestock and farm buildings.

Four members of the John Leahy family perished on their farm near Ewing as Leahy prepared to take them to shelter when he heard the roar of the approaching storm. Leahy, his wife and two daughters, Elaine, ten, and Barbara, six, were killed. Another daughter, Shirley Ann, eight, was seriously hurt.

Mrs. Frank Vrooman, about sixty, met death in her farm home northwest of Orchard. Her husband was so critically injured he is not expected to live. A son, Charles, who suffered serious leg injuries, crawled a mile and a half to a neighbor's home to get help.

BRITISH FLYERS BAG FIFTEEN AXIS PLANES

CAIRO, Egypt, May 13 (AP).—Thirteen Junkers 52's, the German troop-carrying planes, and two of their Messerschmitt escorts were shot down yesterday into the sea off North Africa, the Royal Air Force announced today. Still others may have been destroyed, a communique said, with only one British plane lost.

Fourteen Lost When Freighters Are Sunk

Torpedoing of Second Vessel in St. Lawrence on Monday Night Announced by Navy Minister Macdonald—Officer Tells Story

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP).—Sinking of a second ship by submarine attack in the St. Lawrence River was announced by Navy Minister Macdonalld in the House of Commons today.

He said the ship went down in the same locality and at about the same time as a freighter, loss of which was made public in a press statement by the minister yesterday. In yesterday's statement Mr. Macdonald reported the freighter was lost in the St. Lawrence River on May 11 and forty-one survivors had been landed.

In a brief clash with T. L. Church (Con., Toronto-Broadview) following his statement to the House, Mr. Macdonald said he did not know whether any German undersea craft were based on this side of the Atlantic.

In his statement in the House of Commons today, Mr. Macdonald said

Air Attacks on Malta Lessened With Bag Light

VALETTA, Malta, May 13 (CP).—Axis air attacks on this most bombed spot on earth slacked off today after the defenders had destroyed or damaged 128 raiders from Saturday through Tuesday. Three planes were shot down today in the comparatively light attack. A few bombers, escorted by German fighters, struck at this main island's airdromes, while four miles to the northwest, on tiny Gozo Island, four Messerschmitts machine-gunned the streets of Victoria, the capital.

POPE MAKES HIS APPEAL

But His Holiness Sees No Immediate Hope Of Peace

VATICAN CITY (From Vatican Broadcasts) May 13 (AP).—Pope Pius XII appealed to the world's leaders today to conclude a peace "on principles of justice and moderation even if it does not seem to correspond to aspirations," but he acknowledged that "there is no immediate hope of peace."

He addressed his peace appeal "with impartiality to all belligerents and with equal affection for all sections of all peoples." But in an earlier section of his address the Pope attacked the anti-Christian methods of the leaders of "some countries" who are "bent on replacing right by force."

The pontiff, speaking on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his consecration as a bishop and on the eve of the Feast of the Ascension, was addressing the world by radio. He spoke, he said, while "people are living in painful anxiety, awaiting imminent military operations" and anticipating "the menace of greater destructive weapons."

LITTLE PROBABILITY

But, he said, "we well know how in the state of things today there would be little probability of success in formulating detailed proposals for a just and honorable peace."

"While one side bases it hopes on results achieved," he observed, "the other side bases its hopes on the outcome of future events."

In his remarks attacking the foes of Christianity the Pope said:

"Today in some countries those in authority bent on replacing right by force trump up against Christians the same infringements of law which the Caesars of the first century pretended to have found in Peter and Paul and a countless line of innocent victims who are now effulgent with a halo of virtues.

"The crime trumped up against Christians is always the same—their unfaltering loyalty to the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords."

MEDICINE MEN PRACTISE RITES

Police Stop Dance Around Tuberculosis Patient in Time With Drums

SMITHERS, May 13 (CP).—Provincial Police here are awaiting instructions from headquarters at Victoria following the discovery of weird "medicine man" practices among Indians of the Kispiox Indian Reserve near here.

The Indian "medicine doctors" were found by police practising the rites over a girl ill with tuberculosis.

The men took turns in dancing around the patient in a small shack, in time to two drums beaten by members of the tribe, while others sang. Garbed in a wolverine cape, an apron of moose skin adorned with animal teeth and pieces of hoof, a coronet of bear claws and a crown adorned with feathers, the head medicine man danced around the girl, letting the feathers fall over the patient.

Then he brushed off the feathers. This gesture was supposed to brush away the illness too.

Police confiscated the paraphernalia.

Will Resume Air Services

MONCTON, N.B., May 13 (CP).—Air mail and passenger service between Canada, United States and Britain will be resumed over northern route by Pan-American Airways as soon as weather conditions are favorable, it was revealed tonight by G. M. Sprecher, Pan-American maritime port manager. Arrangements for resumption of the service cancelled at the outbreak of war have been completed, Mr. Sprecher said, and it is planned to operate two round trips weekly.

RUSSIANS FALLING BACK TO NEW POSITIONS IN CRIMEAN SECTOR

Enemy Ship Sunk; Two Set on Fire

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 14 (Thursday) (CP).—Allied bombers in a 1,300-mile round trip above Northern Australia, sank a 3,000-ton Japanese ship at the Japanese-occupied Netherlands island of Amboina, and set two others afire, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Other Allied air units falling on a surprised Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain Island, dropped bombs on fifteen Japanese bombers drawn up on a runway, blowing up three of them, and severely damaging "many others," the communique said.

The raids occurred last night.

In the only reported Japanese counter-action, an attempted raid on Port Moresby, Southern New Guinea, by six Japanese planes, two of the enemy craft were shot down and one was damaged.

RUMANIA CRIES FOR LOST LAND

Nation's Premier Wants Hungary to Give Up Transylvania

BERNE, May 13 (AP).—Rumania's Premier, Gen. Ion Antonescu, was reported today to have added his voice to the cries for return of Transylvania from Hungary—an issue which has put Rumania out of step with the Balkan new order designed by the Germans.

At an oath-taking ceremony for new officials on May 10, the Rumanian national day, Antonescu declared the battles which the Rumanian army had fought in the East—as a German ally against Russia—"will also bring their fruits in the West."

NATIONAL AIM

He added that he wished the Rumanians "living on the other side of the frontier" to hear his voice and told students of Transylvania to continue their fight for return of the area as "a national aim of Rumania."

(More than half of Transylvania was ceded to Hungary in September, 1940, on orders from Germany, which thus sought to settle a long-standing Balkan feud.)

Rommel Is Withdrawn From Libya

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—Field Marshal Edwin Rommel has been withdrawn from his command of German forces in Libya and may be given a command on the eastern front, Reuter's News Agency has reported in a dispatch from the German frontier.

The dispatch said Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, who has been directing the air attack on Malta from Sicily, also had left Italy and that German air strength in the Mediterranean was being withdrawn to other fronts.

Admit Germans Using Superior Numbers, But Deny Nazi Claims Battle Ended—Timoshenko Reported Advancing in Kharkov Area—Enemy Loses Heavily in Transport Planes

Battle for Kerch Seen as Prelude to Big Operation

MOSCOW, May 14 (Thursday) (CP).—The Russians announced early today that they had fallen back to new positions on the Kerch Peninsula, in the Crimea, in the face of attack by superior numbers of Nazis, but they denied German claims that the battle had been concluded.

In the vicinity of Kharkov, approximately 300 miles north of the Crimean battlefront, the Russians under Marshal Semeon Timoshenko were engaged in a mounting offensive against the Germans, and there the Red Army forces were "successfully advancing," according to the midnight Soviet communique.

ENEMY LOSES PLANES

A possibility that a third important sector of the front may be opened by the Germans soon, perhaps as part of a general offensive, was seen in a brief Moscow radio report that the huge total of 229 German transport planes and thirty-seven fighters were destroyed in the last few days in the region about Staraya Russa, south of Leningrad and northwest of Moscow, long a bitterly-contested area.

The presence of so many German transport planes indicated a further Nazi attempt to bolster the reportedly trapped German 16th Army south of Lake Ilmen.

The Crimean front, meanwhile, continued to rock with battle. "Fierce fighting still is going on," said today's communique.

USING BEST TROOPS

LONDON, May 13 (AP).—Germany's continuing attack on the Crimean Kerch Peninsula took on the form tonight of the opening thrust in a

DEATH'S TOLL AT MINE MOUNTING

More Bodies Taken From Virginia Coal Pit—Others Remain In Workings

OSAGE, W.Va., May 13 (AP).—Four more bodies were carried out of the Christopher Coal Company's No. 3 mine late tonight by rescue workers, bringing to forty-five the total removed from the operation rocked by an explosion yesterday afternoon.

Eleven other victims were still buried under the heavy falls in the centre of the blast area, and company officials expressed belief it would take hours to extricate them from the debris.

Frank Christopher, president of the company, joined the rescue crews in their toil earlier in the day and was still in the pit when the four bodies were brought to the surface.

The rescue crews hauled three bodies to the surface yesterday and removed thirty-eight others today.

Officials expressed themselves as certain there were fifteen more bodies in the mine after making an exhaustive check, but all apparently were in the hard-hit third section affected by the blast.

KING RECEIVES ADMIRAL

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—The King today received in audience Admiral Harold Stark, commander of the United States fleet in European waters. Later the admiral, with Ambassador John Winant and Mrs. Winant, lunched with the King and Queen.

Would Canadianize Air Force Overseas

Air Minister Power Informs House His Policy Being Resisted by Officers of R.A.F. and R.C.A.F.—Question of Promotions

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP).—Air Minister Power told the House of Commons today he encountered some resistance on the part of both Royal Canadian Air Force and Royal Air Force officers to his policy of "Canadianizing" the R.C.A.F. overseas.

He said he also encountered some lack of enthusiasm on the part of the British Air Ministry but he intends to persist in the policy.

"Nothing is dearer to my heart than the Canadianization of the R.C.A.F.," said the Minister. "I should like to get all the support I can in Parliament. And I don't know when I have had a greater sense of frustration than in my attempts to Canadianize the Royal Canadian Air Force overseas."

The Minister said there were arguments both for and against the policy of grouping Canadian airmen in all-Canadian squadrons rather than mixing them up in the general pool of the R.A.F.

Some Canadian officers, brought up in the traditions of the R.A.F.

B.C. SHOWING GOOD EXAMPLE

R. L. Maitland Points to Success of Province's Coalition Government

TORONTO, May 13 (CP).—The "success" of Coalition Government in British Columbia illustrates that a National Government in Canada would provide the only legislative machinery "under which the war can be carried on without misgivings," R. L. Maitland, British Columbia Attorney-General, said here tonight.

"We can do without party advantage and power of patronage and, in consequence, we can give much better government," he told an interviewer.

Mr. Maitland was provincial leader of the Conservative Party prior to last Autumn's general election which led to a coalition of Liberal and Conservative members under the premiership of Hon. John Hart, former Liberal Provincial Treasurer. C.C.F. members form the Opposition.

"Since the election, we have received stronger support from the people than has been the lot of any previous Provincial Government," he said.

Mr. Maitland said the three political parties in British Columbia which united in seeking a "Yes" vote in the manpower plebiscite were also united in the opinion that the "Yes" majority should result in immediate conscription of manpower.

Italians Say Gort Hit in Malta Raid

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—The Rome radio claimed today a bomb splinter pierced the left arm of Lord Gort, new Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Malta, as he arrived at his post on the Mediterranean island last week.

There has been no report from British sources of an injury to Lord Gort. He took the oath of office as governor and commander-in-chief Sunday before a chief justice whose hand was bleeding from cuts sustained during a heavy Axis raid a short time before. Bombs fell throughout the ceremony and a near-hit at one time made the officials flatten themselves on the debris-strewn ground.

QUAKE IN SOUTH

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 13 (AP).—Several sharp earthquake shocks, one of more than two and one-half minutes duration, were recorded tonight on the seismograph of Fred Robinson, amateur seismologist. Robinson said the tremblors originated approximately 400 miles southeast of San Diego, and had a strong east to south motion.

United Nations to Study Air Problems

Representatives to Meet at Ottawa Next Tuesday—All Discussions in Private—Opening Session Will Be Broadcast—Premier to Speak

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King and heads of delegations representing other nations will address the first plenary session of the United Nations Air Conference here next Tuesday.

The plenary sessions will take place in the Senate Chamber in the Parliament Buildings and some or all of the speeches will be broadcast over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and probably over American networks.

The broadcast will be from 7:30 to 8 a.m. P.D.T.

The actual business of the conference is not expected to get under way until Wednesday. Committees on various phases of air training, equipment and operations will be named informally on Monday to be confirmed at the Tuesday plenary session. They will get down to work Wednesday on the problems facing the conference.

CLOSED SESSIONS

Sessions of the committee will be closed to the press and the public, since many highly confidential bits of information will pass across the conference tables while senior staff officers and experts in various fields of air warfare compare notes, exchange information and discuss means of collaboration in the planning and execution of projects for the defeat of the enemy.

Air Minister Power, as chief delegate of the nation playing host to the conference, will be chairman and official spokesman for the conference as far as relations with the press are concerned.

Whatever information can be given the public on the deliberations will be given by Major Power.

While the length of the conference will be determined by the matters which come up for discussion and the progress made in reaching understanding, it is not expected to exceed a week.

As far as Canadian officials are concerned, the meetings with the representatives of other nations are expected to divide themselves into three phases—meetings considering matters of interest to all the United Nations; those considering matters of interest only to the nations of the British Commonwealth, such as arrangements regarding matters of interest only to Canada and the United Kingdom which may be dealt with conveniently while representatives of the British Air Ministry are in Canada.

EMPIRE CONFERENCE

Thus, after the main United Nations' Conference is completed, the Canadian, British, Australian and New Zealand delegations may sit down to work out an extension of the Air Training Plan agreement which will normally run out next March.

Preliminary discussions looking to its extension have already taken place and it is a foregone conclusion that the arrangement will continue at least as long as the war.

Questions of concern only to Canada and the United Kingdom likely to be discussed include the relationship to the Royal Canadian Air Force of Royal Air Force training schools operating in Canada, and the granting of commissions to Canadian air crews serving with the R.A.F.

CANADIAN CONVOY SAFE IN ENGLAND

ment, the Governor-General's Foot Guards, the Canadian Grenadier Guards, the Sherbrooke Fusiliers and a Manitoba armored car regiment.

ARMY DETACHMENTS

The balance of the army detachments comprised men for a heavy repair shop which will be established in a large English factory to handle repairs for all Royal Canadian Army Service Corps vehicles, a radio location unit, nursing sisters, men of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, Royal Canadian Artillery, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, Royal Canadian Engineers and numerous reinforcements for infantry and armored corps regiments.

Soldiers and airmen had one word for the crossing: "Swell," and their only complaint was that the weather was cold. There were no reports of sea sickness and the only scare came near the end of the voyage when light sleepers were awakened early one morning by the boom of depth charges dropped by the escort ships.

Shouts of "you can start the war now we've arrived" and "when do we fight" came from the troops lining the decks and popping their heads through the portholes as they waited to disembark and board trains for their long journey to Southern England.

IN HIGH SPIRITS

Capt. the Rev. W. S. Brodie, of Winnipeg, a Church of England padre with the troops, said the men had been as buoyant as that from the time they left Canada and that nothing had happened during the voyage to lower their spirits.

Officers and men were all anxious to let the folks back home know they were safe.

Sitting in the corner of the officers' saloon writing cablegrams were two Grenadier Guards, Lieutenants Art Brown and William Shaughnessy, both of Montreal. It took some probing to discover the man the Grenadiers call "Shag" was Lord Shaughnessy, Canada's only soldier peer apart from Lord Tweedsmuir who is not a native Canadian.

Cpl. George Dudar, of Calgary, was one of the South Alberta Regiment's N.C.O.'s. Officers in the British Columbia Regiment included Capt. C. M. Lewis and Lieutenants J. W. Toogood, D. Harker, S. Lungley, Kit Gibson, all of Vancouver, and J. R. Worthington, a Vancouverite, who explained that he was no relation to the major-general of his name.

LEAVING CANADA

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, May 13 (CP).—Eager to get overseas, thousands of Canadian soldiers and airmen sailed recently from this port in one of the largest Canadian reinforcement movements to cross the Atlantic in this war.

Their safe arrival in Britain was announced today.

Soldiers, tanned and hardened by months of intensive training, formed the larger part of the movement with airmen, nursing sisters and fighting men from other Allied countries swelling their numbers. Included in the movement were some of the first Australian airmen ever to be completely trained in that Island Dominion.

Only women in the huge movement were the nursing sisters, 121 strong, headed by Mary Jane Mercer, of Weston, Ont., and more recently of Camp Borden.

Among the soldiers were men whose duty was not to fight but to keep up morale. One of these was Capt. R. W. Lane, a chaplain, destined for duty with front-line troops in England. Born in Charlottetown, Captain Lane left his church in Brantford, Ont., nine months ago to take up chaplain work.

Enthusiastic about going over, he said he enjoyed working with the soldiers better than working in a parish, as "I feel I am doing a greater work here. And I think the men are a grand bunch, right through."

LAST WAR VETERANS

Scattered among them were seasoned veterans of the first Great War—"repaint jobs" the newcomers called them—like Major G. A. Annand, of Toronto, holder of the Military Medal, and happy-go-lucky soldiers of fortune like Pte. Jack Shank, of Chicago, a veteran of eight years in the United States Navy and additional years in service in various countries.

The airmen were youthful products of training fields scattered across Canada. Sergeant pilots in the group included D. E. Melcombe, Vancouver.

Wireless air gunners included W. Day, Vancouver, and Jack McVicar, of Wellington, New Zealand—who had been in Canada exactly two weeks and "wish I could stay here."

However, the khaki uniforms outnumbered the trim blues of the air force, flooding every nook and cranny of the transports. From every province in the Dominion had they come, forming as pugnacious a group of fighting men as ever left this jumping-off spot for battle.

From the shores of the West Coast had come Pte. Charles Moore and Pte. F. Day, both of Vancouver; Sgt. H. B. Minns, Victoria, and Pte. J. A. Turner, Port Alberni, Vancouver Island.

After Enemy Attempt at Crash Dive

Pilots are shown looking over a Douglas dive bomber, which had its tail sheared off when a Japanese bomber crashed on the deck of an aircraft carrier. The damaged Japanese bomber unsuccessfully attempted to crash amid the planes that were lined up along the flight deck of the carrier, which took part in the United States naval raids on the Japanese Marshall Islands.

WILL RETAIN SCHOOL HERE

Province Negotiates for Use Of Memorial Hall on Vancouver Street

Victoria is to keep its Provincial Normal School, primarily for the benefit of Victoria and Vancouver Island student teachers, but also for any Mainland students who elect to come here from areas outside of Greater Vancouver and the Lower Mainland. That became apparent yesterday at the Legislative Buildings, as negotiations for the renting of the Anglican Memorial Hall, at Vancouver and Rockland, proceeded between the Province and the trustees of the building.

If arrangements are completed, as is expected, the Provincial Government will acquire a lease on such accommodation at the Memorial Hall as may be necessary to re-arrange Normal classes here. The lease, it is understood, will be dated from July 1, and the following months used to transfer books and school equipment and arrange for necessary instructors' offices. The consideration was not stated, as negotiations have not yet been concluded.

SECOND REMOVAL

Moved from the Provincial Normal School building at Mount Tolmie when the Dominion took over that structure for other purposes, sixty-eight Normal students completed their season's work in the Shrine Auditorium, temporarily fitted out for the purpose. More permanent quarters, however, were desired, and led to the present negotiations which are in process of being concluded.

While final plans are still open, it is expected that the Province will build an addition to the Provincial Normal School at Vancouver, to serve Mainland students outside of the Greater Vancouver and valley area itself. If that should be done, the Provincial Normal School at Victoria may have smaller classes here, but it is now known that the separate institution will be maintained in the new school year to commence next Fall.

Hon. H. G. Perry, Minister of Education, was on the Mainland yesterday, and could not be reached for confirmation. Negotiations for the actual use of the structure were proceeding under the Department of Public Works.

BOARD REVIEWS PUPILS' STATUS

Requirements for Outside Students Attending Victoria Schools Defined

Conditions under which educational facilities of Victoria schools will be made available to outside students were re-defined in a resolution passed by the school board last night.

Pupils affected are those whose parents are not bona fide residents or taxpayers of school districts which have agreements with the board for the elementary or secondary education of their children.

These parents, and the principals of the schools concerned, will be advised twice yearly, in June and December, that their children may continue to attend Victoria schools only upon payment of fees for one term, or five months, in advance.

MUST KNOW STATUS

Principals of all city schools must have instructions from the secretary of the board before enrolling such pupils, and before admitting any pupil principals must be assured that the pupil is the son or daughter of a bona fide resident or taxpayer of Victoria.

However, pupils whose parents cease to be bona fide residents or taxpayers of the city may remain in attendance without the payment of fees until the end of the current term, in January or June.

The schedule of non-resident fees will remain as formerly, it was decided. These annual fees are: Elementary, $75; junior high, $110, and senior high, $120.

Car Crashes Into Showroom Window

A truck owned by Stewart Hudson Lumber Company apparently slipped its brakes last night at 11:20 o'clock in the driveway of Hughes' Gas Station, near the corner of Johnson and Quadra Streets, crossed Quadra Street at an angle, jumped the sidewalk and crashed into the showroom window of Jones Bros. Service Station, Yates and Quadra Streets.

INFLICTING HEAVY LOSSES ON ENEMY

described by the Japanese as guerrillas.

While British land units, trying to extricate themselves from Burma, withdrew closer to the Assam border, a military spokesman at New Delhi discounted Japanese reports of success in encircling British remnants.

He said that at least part of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's troops were at Shwegyin, 140 miles from Mandalay, before the Japanese pursuit fully developed.

As the British forces withdrew toward India they apparently came in range of airplane protection, for a New Delhi communique reported that the Royal Air Force is supporting the ground forces.

FIRE ENEMY PLANES

NEW DELHI, May 13 (CP).—A United States army bombing squadron in a daring daylight raid attacked the Japanese-occupied airdrome at Myitkyina, in Far Northern Burma, yesterday and set fire to Japanese planes parked on the runways, a communique announced today.

This was the first daylight attack, and like night attacks in the past was without fighter protection.

The operation again demonstrated effectiveness of the famous American bombsight, which flyers said could drop a bomb into a flowerpot from 25,000 feet.

The raid brought to nine the total announced attacks on the Japanese in this theatre since the American airmen have been operating there.

BICYCLIST HURT IN CAR MISHAP

Suffering slight head injuries and a cut right leg in a traffic accident yesterday at 5:27 p.m. at the corner of Cedar Hill Road and Haultain Street, Donald Leckie, 2640 Cedar Hill Road, was removed to the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The accident occurred when Leckie, who was riding his bicycle south on Cedar Hill Road, was in collision with a car proceeding east on Haultain Street and driven by [illegible] Street.

CRASH VICTIM BORN IN CITY

Sergt. Pilot R. R. T. Christie Lost When Aaircraft Plunged Into Sea

Western Air Command yesterday disclosed that the pilot lost when an R.C.A.F. aircraft crashed into the sea at Saanichton Bay, Tuesday afternoon, was Sgt. Pilot Richard Roland Thomas Christie, aged nineteen, of Victoria. Efforts to recover his body and the wrecked fighter plane were continuing late yesterday.

A member of a family prominent in this city for two generations, the young airman was born in Victoria in April, 1923. His grandfather was the late R. T. Elliott, K.C., well-known barrister, and his grandmother was a noted musician here.

His father, Flt. Lieut. Roland G. Christie, is now stationed at No. 123 A.C.T. Squadron, R.C.A.F., Debert, N.S.

Sgt. Pilot Christie's mother, Mrs. Elmer Knight, lives at Cordova Bay.

Coming from Seattle in 1940, young Christie enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in Vancouver. After graduating as a pilot he was posted to the Thunderbird Fighter Squadron last month.

PRACTICE IS WELL STAGED

District 2A East Rehearsal Was Successful Except For Delays

The second of a series of district A.R.P. practices, staged last night in District 2 A East, Foul Bay area, by A.R.P. personnel totaling approximately 254, was reported by Inspector Arthur H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, as being successful, except for a one-hour delay caused by disruption of ambulance services. Cause of the breakdown was not immediately determined, but was under investigation by A.R.P. authorities.

Five sectors, working under Lieut.-General E. C. Ashton, district warden, were brought into play, with a personnel of 125 working under district control centre at Margaret Jenkins School.

One "dead" and four other casualties were featured in nine major incidents, with decontamination and rescue squads, ambulance and police being called to one centre to deal with "mustard gas" bombs. In addition, sectors provided twelve cases for first-aid posts and points.

AUTO COLLISION

An auto collision, burst water mains, blocked roads, crippled electric cables, an electric short circuit in a home, a wrecked house and a high explosive crater, together with incendiaries, went to make up a wide variety of incidents.

As in the first district practice, held last week in James Bay district, all A.R.P. services, including electricians, plumbers, police, engineers, wrecking squads, auxiliary firemen and ambulance units, together with six ambulances and city hospitals, were called into play.

HIT A HIGH for flavour!

TROUBLE-SHOOTER Georges, here, helps keep power lines open to key industries in Northern Quebec. Braves blizzards; handles high tension wires! A tough job! But like thousands of other hard-working men, he has discovered THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST gives him staying power—"and for real zip, give me Kellogg's Corn Flakes! They sure taste grand!" says Georges.

NURSEMAID TO MOTOR CARS! Pretty and vivacious June Kellard makes success of new job as gas station attendant. But June must be at work at 7 a.m. "That's why I vote for the 30-second breakfast; saves time, no mess to wash up afterwards." Yes, June, and Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the thrifty breakfast too — enough for the whole family costs only a few pennies.

MEN FROM MARS? No, Bruce Young and Martin Hurst, Ontario ARP workers learning "gas decontamination." These war workers both have full-time jobs. They get the right send-off to the day with Kellogg's Corn Flakes. "Swell is the word for that exclusive Kellogg's flavour!" says Bruce. Right! And the flavour that 4 out of 5 in Canada vote first — is just as tempting between meals!

STEPPING OUT! Gordon knows just how long he must allow for that last-minute dash to the bus. He knows, too, that a big bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with milk and sugar gives him the needed food energy to run more than two miles! No wonder so many people in Canada vote it THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST!

JOHNNY'S ON THE JOB to see that mother buys THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST! "If my family's any indication," says Mrs. Valleau, "it's no wonder that all across Canada Kellogg's gets the vote as the favourite cereal, year after year! I often give Johnny Kellogg's for supper, too. When he's off to bed early, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are best—nourishing and easy-to-digest." Get some tomorrow, in either of the two convenient sizes.

HE'S A "SELF-STARTER"! When on furlough, George goes into action with a zoom! Makes fast aquaplane dash; swims; has fun at the lake. Sports like this help keep him fit; but the right food is important too. For needed food energy, thousands begin their day with THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST—a big bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with milk and sugar! Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Practice in Oak Bay Shows Improvement

Two-Hour Raid Rehearsal Staged by 300 A.R.P. Personnel North of Avenue Reported Successful—New Control Room Works Well

OAK BAY'S A.R.P. organization north of Oak Bay Avenue, approximately 300 strong and ranging over several square miles of residential district, worked with clock-like precision last night to produce what was termed by municipal A.R.P. officials a "very successful" two-hour raid practice.

The Oak Bay North demonstration showed a decided improvement on the last practice held some weeks ago in Oak Bay South, A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal civilian protection officer, said, while the municipality's new central control room in the basement of the Municipal Hall worked "very well." A feature of the control centre is a sound-proof room with a battery of three private telephones.

MEDICAL SERVICES GOOD

Hospital authorities, Dr. Denton Holmes, and Mrs. D. J. Hunter, R.N., a doctor and nurse in charge of the Willows School first aid post, reported the hospital centre in the school basement worked "very smoothly," showing an improvement over the routine displayed at Monterey School during the last practice. The improvement was attributed, in part, to the absence of throngs of spectators. Six graduate nurses, three Red Cross nurses and stretcher-bearers were on duty.

All "casualties" brought to the hospital had received excellent first aid treatment from A.R.P. wardens at the scenes of incidents, Dr. Holmes reported. Satisfaction on the work of the medical services was also expressed by Captain F. Dexter, in charge of Red Cross and Oak Bay schools.

FIREMEN PRAISED

Auxiliary firemen won high praise from Fire Chief Ed Clayards. At a major incident at the Uplands Golf Club, where a "serious fire" and a "serious casualty" occurred after dropping of heavy explosives, the auxiliary firemen laid 2,500 feet of hose from a privately owned pool in the district, sweeping the "fire" with two strong streams.

At the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, where firemen were called, the auxiliaries brought four hoses into play, pumping water from a tank truck and from the sea with a Bickle A.R.P. pump.

Fifteen major incidents, with approximately sixteen "casualties" recorded, brought all branches of the municipal organization into play, including all rescue and repair squads, which were rushed to the Oak Bay High School on Cranmore Road when the school was reported "seriously damaged" by high explosive.

The new municipal A.R.P. ambulance, manned by two nurses, four stretcher-bearers and driver, and accompanied by Chief Medical Officer Dr. W. P. Walker and Mrs. Sidney Cave, head nurse, went into service last night for the first time.

Burst water mains, incendiary bombs, heavy explosive, and practically every type of "casualty" were featured in the practice. The raid practice started at 7:30 p.m., and the all-clear was reported at 9:32 p.m., Chief of Police Hugh Reston reported. A.R.P. heads assisting A. S. G. Musgrave, civilian protection officer, in the central control room were W. R. Ridington, district warden of Oak Bay North; O. A. Butters, chief warden; C. H. Rutherford, district warden of Oak Bay South; as well as police, fire and medical heads.

WILL AID BRITAIN

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—The Free French will assist Britain in administering Madagascar, the Foreign Office announced tonight.

NAZIS USE GAS-FILLED SHELLS

Berne Newspaper Reports Surprise Weapon Being Used in Crimea

BERNE, Switzerland, May 13 (AP).—An explanation of the German Foreign Office, as quoted here by the Neue Zuercher Zeitung, indicated today that Germany's "surprise weapon" in the Kerch offensive probably is a new-type shell which detonates with such intensity as to deafen and immobilize persons over a wide area and which generates gas as a by-product.

The Germans have announced they would not use gas as a weapon of attack, but this version indicated they may consider gas freed in the bursting of high-explosive shells a different matter.

SLIGHT DIFFERENCE

The German Foreign Office explanation as quoted by the Swiss paper said: "Naturally there are poisonous gases which escape when modern explosives are detonated, but that does not mean chemical battle material."

Foreign military experts here concluded the shells probably were an improved version of those reported to have been used in the Belgian campaign, the chief effect of which was temporarily to stupefy large numbers of combatants.

The Zurich newspaper correspondent said the Germans claimed their new weapon had taken the Russians by surprise.

Regardless of various new weapons being employed by the Germans, including new types of bombers and fighters, foreign military experts said there are indications Germany still is not able to launch her long-predicted big drive.

SEEKS POSITIONS

The present Kerch offensive was described as an effort to gain more favorable fighting positions to launch the big offensive.

Kerch, next to Leningrad and Moscow, is reported to be the most heavily fortified of Russian positions and is necessary to the Germans if they are to jump off for the Caucasus.

But Berlin military spokesmen's remarks left the inference Germany has abandoned any plan for a concerted drive on all the eastern fronts.

Following the Kerch offensive, if it succeeds, a Berlin spokesman declared, "the undertaking on the central portion of the front will be just as important."

The reasons for Germany's limiting her efforts, according to creditable foreign informants, are: (1) the Axis armies have been unable to fill the gaps in men and material lost during the Winter; (2) Germany's allies, especially Rumania, Hungary and Italy, are still behind in putting new divisions into the field; (3) transport of men and material is going forward at a slower pace than planned because of damaged communications; (4) differences between the Nazi party elite troops and the regular army generals have not been fully resolved, and (5) the drive at home to prepare the home front for new efforts and new sacrifices has not reached the climax expected.

Typifies Canadian Soldier

For one of a series of portraits of the men in Canada's army, Lilias Torrance Newton, R.C.A., has chosen a typical example of our fighting forces—young, alert, resolute, cooly defiant. The title, "Canadian Soldier," is as comprehensive as it is simple. This painting has been reproduced in postcard size, and is being placed free in canteens to be used by men serving the Canadian army.

HOPE TO HAVE RULES RELAXED

"Drive Yourself" Car Firms Say Victoria Merits Special Consideration

Managers of some Victoria taxi and U-drive concerns suggested yesterday, in commenting upon the wartime restrictions announced on Tuesday by the Department of Munitions and Supply on behalf of Transit Controller George S. Gray, that the city deserves special consideration because it is on an island.

They pointed out that many businessmen who own cars in other cities do not bring them to Victoria, preferring to hire U-drive cars to transact business on Vancouver Island, and that the order forbidding U-drive firms to rent cars to those who own or control vehicles for which gasoline licences have been issued under rationing regulations would create a hardship.

FORSEE LITTLE CHANGE

The order restricting the hiring of U-drive cars to the hours between 6 o'clock in the morning and 11 o'clock in the evening would, managers said, make little difference to their business. The firms will not, however be able to close their offices at night, because the cars are returned at all hours.

Except with the consent of the transit controller, owners of drive-yourself cars must retain the gasoline coupon books issued for them.

Taxi firms wondered if the order limiting taxi trips to a radius of "fifteen miles from the home town" would be interpreted to mean fifteen miles from the taxi's home base or fifteen miles from the city limits of Victoria.

MAY AFFECT SERVICE

Taxi firms, if the regulation is interpreted as banning trips of more than fifteen miles from their offices, will be unable to take fares to Patricia Bay, which is seventeen and one-half miles from downtown Victoria, but less than fifteen miles from the city limits. As permits relaxing the regulations may be issued in exceptional circumstances, taximen hope that Patricia Bay will be included within their limits of operation.

In the meantime, executives of the firms said they would make no changes until instructions had been received from Ottawa and the new regulations had been clarified.

WANTS CANADIAN FORCE IDENTIFIED

were not sympathetic to the policy of segregating Canadians. An argument against segregation was that Canadian officers could not enjoy the same opportunities for promotion to high commands if Canadians were in their own formations, as if they were dispersed through the Royal Air Force.

The Minister made his statement in reply to T. C. Douglas (C.C.F., Weyburn), who suggested Canada should, if possible, have an independent air force overseas and Canadian squadrons co-operating with the Canadian Army.

Maj. Power said squadrons are attached to the Canadian Army for army co-operation purposes and that he hopes there will be more.

Conservative House Leader Hanson questioned if it were practicable to have an independent Canadian air force overseas and Major Power agreed it was not. But, the Minister said, much could be done to group Canadians together and identify them as Canadians.

When Defence Minister Ralston was overseas last year an agreement had been reached to establish twenty-five Canadian squadrons in the R.A.F. in addition to three R.C.A.F. squadrons serving overseas. So far twenty-two of those squadrons had been established.

CANADIAN SQUADRONS

"There is a long history of struggle and discussion connected with this matter," Major Power said. "I think we are on the way to where I know I want to go and where I hope the majority of this House and the people of this country want to go: That is, to make our squadrons overseas as much Canadian as possible.

The Minister said he would like to see the Canadian airmen overseas with the same status as that held by American airmen now going to Britain. They would necessarily serve under Royal Air Force command, but would have a separate and distinct status.

"There is a feeling both in this country and beyond it that it is to the general good to mix people from all parts of the Empire," Major Power went on. "To that theory I subscribe to a certain extent.

"On the other hand, I maintain that these men in squadrons are a team and it is easier to play on a team with men you know, men of your own kind, men from your own home town, than to play on a team with men from another town, even though you may be the best of friends and have the greatest respect for one another."

AIM IS BOMBER GROUP

Operational difficulties stood in the way of a wholly integrated Canadian force overseas. Bombers had to be attached to the bomber command, fighters to the fighter command and so on. The R.C.A.F. was aiming at a bomber group for Canadians.

Support for the Minister's viewpoint was expressed by Col. A. J. Brooks (Conservative, Royal) who said Canadians should get credit for their achievements in the air.

Major Power said sometimes a raid was attributed to the R.A.F. when only one or three R.A.F. squadrons were in it, the others being Canadian. This was a sound reason for "Canadianization."

Col. Brooks, who is on active service as commandant of a basic training centre in New Brunswick, said he believes the air force has got a little too much attention and credit compared with the army. The army had suffered because the air force attracted recruits with its smarter uniform. Men had gone into the air force who would have been better in the army.

SUPPORTS MINISTER

LONDON, May 14 (Thursday) (CP).—A change in the Air Ministry's policy of anonymity is "long overdue," The Daily Telegraph and Morning Post said today, commenting on Canadian Air Minister Power's protest over the refusal of the Air Ministry to release news of individual actions and successes of Canadian airmen.

The Minister voiced a complaint often heard in Britain, The Telegraph said, and if his public protest stimulates the Ministry into making a change he will deserve the gratitude of Britain as well as Canada.

(The names of British airmen are seldom released for publication of action stories, unless the men have won decorations. Then their accomplishments are shown in the citation accompanying their awards.)

"No one suggests there should be indiscriminate publicity for individuals or that anything like a Hollywood atmosphere should be allowed to invade the service," the newspaper added, but "it is a question of striking a fair mean which ought to be a matter of no great difficulty."

LONDON (CP).—Because Colonial governors are unable to come to London to report, Sir Cosmo Parkinson, fifty-seven-year-old permanent under-secretary for colonies, will visit colonies and report back to the Government.

WHERE WERE THE SINKINGS?

Two vessels have been torpedoed in the St. Lawrence River. This is the first time there have been such happenings within the territorial waters of Canada during the course of the war. The enemy knows where the torpedoings occurred; those saved from the vessels know; the Federal authorities know. What is gained by withholding the knowledge of the points of attack from the people of Canada? They have the right to learn how near the danger has approached them. Indeed, if only for the purpose of arousing the people of Quebec to a more serious realization of the threat to their well being there is in this war, the news of the happenings and where they occurred should be bruited far and wide throughout that province.

There is a secrecy affecting war's episodes that defeats its own purpose. Nothing whatever is gained by the suppression of any of the facts connected with the St. Lawrence U-boat attacks. The submarine, seemingly, was allowed to escape. It must have made its way either past Cape Breton or through the Strait of Belle Isle, and then traversed the Gulf of St. Lawrence to reach the river, eluding the vigilance of whatever patrols there are operating from Halifax or from ports of Newfoundland. How far did the U-boat penetrate up the river? The people of Canada have a right to know. Censorship should never operate to the extent of covering up the location of happenings of this character when the territorial waters of the Dominion have been penetrated by the enemy. The Government, or perhaps it is the Department of Naval Affairs, must have a poor conception of the morale of the people in withholding such information.

RIVAL METHODS OF TREATMENT

The Japanese colony in Vancouver must be still in a flourishing state since it can continue to publish its newspaper—The New Canadian. The question of this publication has been raised in the House of Commons and Mr. N. A. McLarty, Secretary of State, has given the following explanation: "It is published in Japanese and in English . . . it is still being published at 396 Powell Street. It generally appears three times a week. Its Japanese section occupies approximately one-quarter of its space and consists entirely of translations of official announcements and notices affecting the Japanese-Canadian population. . . . The press censorse advise me that it is now subject to pre-publication censorship and all copy must be presented to the censor in Vancouver prior to the publication of the paper."

The Government is more tolerant towards the Japanese residents of this country than the occasion seems to warrant. The supposition was that all Japanese residents of British Columbia were supposed to be moved without delay outside the "protected area" of this Province, even if they were still to be allowed to remain at large. The attitude of Japan towards her enemies is somewhat different. Professor Gordon King, of Hongkong University, told interviewers in Shiukwan recently that half of the 1,600 Britons and 300 Americans interned in the warders' quarters in the Stanley Prison, Hongokong, "may die of starvation within six months unless their treatment is improved." He is one of those who escaped after Hongkong was captured. The report of his interview said that "scores of prisoners, especially children, elderly men and women, have been reduced almost to skeletons. The prisoners are given only two bowls of congee (the water in which rice is boiled) a day, and one ton of coal a month for the cooking for each 100 persons. The Japanese have rejected neutral requests for the improvement of the conditions of the prisoners."

IN LIGHTER VEIN

Commenting upon the difficulty experienced by Germans in seeing the point in English jokes, The Times, London, recently mentioned as a well-known instance the one about the shell-hole which Old Bill said had been made by mice, and then went on to tell a tale which when it comes to be known is likely to become famous.

It seems that on March 25 last a bottle of sweets weighing seven pounds was put up for auction in the Stock Exchange on the understanding that every bid involved an obligation to apply for an equivalent amount of Government securities. An aggregate of £79,500 was raised. The sweets were finally sent to a hospital.

Then the trouble started. Someone in the Ministry of Food took a hand. He made official inquiries. He ascertained the name of the auctioneer. He pointed out that there appeared to have been a contravention of the law controlling the price of sweets and involving serious penalties. The Times, discussing the matter, mentioned the fact that at a similar auction a year ago the Stock Exchange raised £34,000, which amount was paid for a basket of onions. It recalled Lord Haw-Haw's message to the German people asking them to look at the sort of prices that foodstuffs had reached in London. The Times thought it proper to treat the incident rather lightly and set forth some reasons for thinking that the action of the Ministry of Food was the work of a jester and other reasons for suspecting that perhaps the action was taken in all seriousness in the course of ordinary routine.

Next the Ministry of Food wrote a solemn official letter to The Times, taking the ground that its duty is to enforce the law and protect the public, that foods are subjected to maximum prices, that these maximum prices have from time to time been ignored at charity auctions, that some foods auctioned in this way are in short supply, and that while the Ministry of Food "were most reluctant to proceed against the organizer we must protect the law from falling into desuetude."

The Times, however, was impenitent. It refused to be impressed and declared its conviction that the whole thing was a joke "of priceless beauty," the work surely of an accomplished jester, and that it would evoke laughter from Land's End to John o' Groat's. The inquiry made by the Ministry of Food, in the opinion of The Times, "reveals in official goodness a power more dangerous even than that against which the gods themselves struggle in vain, a cool and mechanical correctness in high places which is insensitive to the fullest flow of national feeling; and which values a rule above a great act of faith."

CANADA AND VICHY

In answer to questions asked in Parliament about Canada's relations with the Vichy Government, the Prime Minister gave the following information. M. Pierre Dupuy, the Canadian Charge d'Affairs for France, Belgium and The Netherlands, resides in London. He is now in Ottawa. It appears that he has opportunities for direct contact with Marshal Petain and visits Vichy at intervals. He has had no conference with M. Laval since the latter became French Premier. He has been recalled to Canada because of "the advantage afforded by conference with one who possesses special knowledge and is widely informed on matters at issue."

One question Mr. King was asked was: "Have complaints been made to the Vichy minister—M. Ristelhueber—that the Vichy consulate in Quebec was distributing anti-British pamphlets?" The reply to this was: "It is not customary to disclose particulars of confidential conversations between foreign diplomatic representatives and the governments to which they are accredited." The Prime Minister pointed out that there are two Vichy consulates, one in the city of Montreal and one in the city of Quebec. The latter consulate is now vacant and is being administered by the Consul General in Montreal. Mr. King admitted that broadcasts are being sent to this continent in French from Nazi-controlled Paris, that broadcasts are being sent to this continent in French from Vichy, and that "action has been taken thereto." M. Dupuy has been in Ottawa for several days, but no action has, as yet, been taken by the Dominion Government to break off diplomatic relations with Vichy.

CONSCRIPTION BY TAXATION

There may be industrial undertakings in the Dominion that are profiting through war orders, though it is doubtful if there are because of the excess profits tax and other taxes. Perhaps the experience of the Ford Company of Canada is more or less duplicated by other organizations that are engaged in war work. In any case here is what The Windsor Star says:

"In the year before the war started, 1938, the Ford Company had a gross revenue of $46,850,150 and made a net profit (after taxation) of $3,253,176 for a profit of $1.96 per share. Last year, when the company was busy with war orders, it took gross revenues of $129,609,915 to show a net profit of $3,279,603, for a profit of $1.97 per share. In other words, to increase the profit per share by one cent, the Ford Company of Canada had to increase its gross revenues by $82,759,765."

The parrot cry of Socialists for the conscription of wealth seems nugatory in these days when the point to which taxation has reached means that very conscription, and on a considerable scale. The Socialists never tell their followers how those who, through thrift, have savings which they have invested, have frequently to sell out their investments to meet the demands of the Dominion Government. They do so willingly enough, though they know that the sacrifices they make mean that there will be less comfort for them when their earning power is at an end. It is the little investors who are the greatest sufferers in this way. Many of them find the nest eggs they have put away for a rainy day disappearing so that income tax demands may be met. There is what amounts to conscription of capital and very real conscription in force in this country today.

OPPORTUNITY

This I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream:—
There spread a cloud of dust along a plain;
And underneath a cloud, or in it, raged
A furious battle, and men yelled, and swords
Shocked upon swords and shields. A prince's banner
Wavered, then staggered backward, hemmed with foes.
A craven hung along the battle's edge
And thought, "Had I a sword of keener steel—
That blue blade that the King's son bears—but this Blunt thing—!" he snapt and flung it from his hand
And lowering crept away and left the field.
Then came the King's son, wounded, sore bestead
And weaponless and saw the broken sword
Hilt buried in the dry and trodden sand
And ran and snatched it, and with battle shout
Lifted afresh he hewed his enemy down,
And saved a great cause that heroic day.

DESTRUCTION OF LAW

Your brother represents an idea. . . . That idea is the subversion of all social principle. It is an idea which must spread, because there is an enormous number of depraved men in the world who have a very great interest in the destruction of law. The watchword of that party will always be "there is no God," because God is order, and they desire disorder. They will, it is true, always be a minority, because the greatest part of mankind are determined that order shall not be destroyed. But those fellows will fight to the death, because they know that in that battle there will be no quarter for the vanquished. It will be a mighty struggle and will last long, but it will be decisive, and will perhaps never be revived when once it is over.—F. Marion Crawford: "Marzio's Crucifix" (A Cardinal Speaks).

TO A REPUBLICAN FRIEND, 1848

God knows it, I am with you. If to prize
Those virtues, prized and practised by too few,
But prized, but loved, but eminent in you,
Man's fundamental life; if to despise
The barren optimistic sophistries
Of comfortable moles, whom what they do
Teaches the limit of the just and true
(And for such doing they require not eyes);
If sadness at the long heart-wasting show
Wherein earth's great ones are disquieted;
If thoughts, not idle, while before me flow
The armies of the homeless and unfed:
If these are yours, if this is what you are,
Then am I yours, and what you feel, I share.

—Matthew Arnold.

IN 1870

It was subject of consideration with me whether we should not restore the Empire and negotiate with it, giving it 100,000 picked men from the 200,000 or 400,000 prisoners we had in Germany. It would have suited us, for it would have been a very weak government, restored by the foreigner and minus two provinces. I told Thiers that we might do this. "You would not commit such a crime," cried the little man.—Bismarck to Lord Rosebery, on possible terms after 1870.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

"Are ye in, bhoy?"

It was an unnecessary question, for the blue eyes of Macool were bent on me from the doorway, and the rest of Macool followed before I had time to reply.

"But ' see ye are," said Shamus, sealing himself with the ease of a large man who has every intention of staying awhile.

"What's on your mind, Shamus?" I asked.

He replied with a question: "Have ye seen airy sign av the say-sarpint lately?"

I shook my head.

"I thought not," said Shamus. "Nor ye won't, nayther. The say-sarpint is gone for the duration, I'm thinkin'."

"What makes you think so?" I asked him.

"Well, it stands t'reason, bhoy. Look at it the way a say-sarpint would see it. Ivery time it popped its head up, it took the chance that somewan would let off a machine-gun. If it went out to sea, there'd be bomb practice, and whatnot. I tell ye a say-sarpint's life is no joke in wartime. It's gone for t'duration, I tell ye!"

"Do you really think so, Shamus?" I asked him.

"I do that, an' more's the pity, for it was a gra-and animal," said Shamus, with a wistful shake of his leonine head. There was a pause while my friend attended to the needs of a portable smoke factory, known to him as "me pipe." And then the story came, as I knew it would.

"Ah, bhoy, that was a gra-and animal! I watched it from t'day that it up an' bowed to a clerk of the Legislatoor, who was out for a paceful day's fishin'; until, three years later, it came ashore an' practically had tea with some pioneer residents Up-Island. At least, they threw the tea. It was becomin' civilized. In a year or two, if we had let it alone, the say-sarpint would have come to a whistle; for it was fond av music, and would often play a tune on the barnacles. It would put its head on wan side an' listen to t'gulls; an' ivery time they piped out av tune, it would snap at thim.

"Nifnety fate long it was, a regular, full-grown say-sarpint," continued Shamus. Its neck was tin feet long, with a camel's head on top av it. Its body was six fate thick where ye could see it, but mostly ye couldn't see it, because it would be stretched out under t'water, with only an odd loop or two showing. Its sides had all the colors av the rainbow, with port lights in a row along ayther side. It could make thirty knots an' hour, an' sixty whin ye weren't lookin', laving a white wake behint. It was a gra-and animal!" said Shamus, with a sigh.

"Cheer up, Shamus, the sea-serpent will be back one of these days," I told him. Macool turned his blue eyes full upon me.

"Do ye think so, bhoy? Do ye think it will escape the torpedoes, an' t'bombs, an' everything? Ah, I hope ye are right. Why, bhoy, I have rushed down to t'water forty-sivin times whin folks said they saw it, and I niver so much as saw its wake. Always it had been there, but had moved on somewhere else. An' that's what I'm afraid av now—that it has moved on somewhere else. Cadborosaurus, they called it. It was a gra-and animal!" said Shamus, rising from the chair, and leaving dejectedly.

On the street later, an item in a newspaper drew my attention. "Strange Encounter With Submarine Shaped Like a Sea-Serpent," it read. "Depth charges dropped by destroyer when camel's head periscope seen above the surface," the item continued. I shuddered, but read on. "Submarine of strange design, and thirty feet long sighted by—." But no, thirty feet do not make a sea-serpent; at least not Cadborosaurus, which is—as Macool says—"ninety feet long, an' the same distance back agin, bhoy." So Caddy is safe; or, at least, I trust it is safe. But, er—have you seen it, recently, I mean?

TROOPS PACK HUT FOR SUNDAY VARIETY SHOW

Servicemen packed the Knights of Columbus Hut Sunday evening for a concert presented under the direction of James McGrath and Paul Michelin. Eileen Waddington, whose brother, Geoffrey, is the symphonic conductor for the C.B.C., was special guest artist, and her two piano solos, Liszt's "Liebestraum" and Rachmaninoff's "Prelude," were highly appreciated.

Other artists contributing to the programme were Frank Merryfield, "Pop" Green's Orchestra, Elinor Switzer, W. Beasley, "Cowboy Curly," Larry Schiller, Frank Hayward, Enid Middleton, Murray Ramsey and Bob Townsend. Accompanists were Mrs. Graves and Paul Michelin.

For the "Sunday Varieties" show on May 24, the prize-winning boys' band from St. Louis College, directed by Brother Reilly, will be the featured attraction.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

Lee Hallberg, of radio station CJVI, visited the office yesterday morning and found himself roped into a lively discussion on the poor Spring weather. The old-timer insisted it must be something to do with the war. Young Gordon, who has a more inquisitive turn of mind, pointed out it must be due to sun spots which astronomers state are prevalent this year. A typewriter mechanic, busily repairing the dilapidated "mills," vaguely thought censored weather reports and daylight saving time might be responsible. Then rotund Lee took the floor. "I have given considerable thought to the question of weather," he commenced. "What with?" Gordon asked. Ignoring the interruption Lee resumed: "For some time I have studied weather forecasting, and I came to the conclusion—" At that moment Gordon shouted from the window: "Lee, a copper is putting a ticket on your car outside." But Lee replied he had only been parked for ten minutes. "As I was saying," he continued, "I have studied weather forecasting for some time, and I came to the conclusion that the cool Spring weather and lack of sun is due to those spiteful Japanese diverting the Japan current from our shores." When the laughter subsided Gordon informed Lee that he had better stick to radio . . . Women's Auxiliary to The Canadian Scottish Regiment thought of a novel idea to raise funds for the A.R.P. organization. It will also save sugar, flour, expensive meat and other commodities. In fact it is something never before tried in the city. On Saturday the patriotic ladies will stage an imaginary cooking stall in the S. S. Kresge Co., Ltd., store at 1100 Douglas Street. There will also be a large imaginary pie into which contributions will be thrown.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 20 feet to the height of high water as above given.

PERMIT NECESSARY

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP)—L. F. Jackson, assistant commissioner of customs, advised collectors today that permits are required for importation into Canada of any "vehicle, machine or implement or other article equipped, or designed to be equipped, with rubber tires."

TO RATION POWER

DUBLIN, May 13 (CP)—The Government announced tonight that power rationing would start shortly in Eire, because of scarcity of fuel.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of May 14, 1892)

Being Utilized in Many Ways — The cargo of lumber of the wrecked bark, Dominion, is being quickly recut into flooring, sashes, and laths, etc., at Adams' Saw Mills, Rock Bay. A good deal of it went to supply the floors for the new Duck Building on Broad Street, and has the appearance of as good a pick of timber as has ever been shipped anywhere.

The Park Extension—It is expected that work will commence today on the new tramway extension to the park. Though it is impossible to complete the extension by the 24th, if no untoward event should happen to prevent it, the line will be open for travel by July 1.

They Mean Business — The men and material to build the Queenstown Trading Co.'s store and sawmill leave for the new city on the Quatsino Sound by the Danube on Monday, and by commencing operations at once those in charge of the party expect to have the mill and station buildings completed by Fall. The resident Indians will be given steady employment in clearing ground and assisting the builders, and already thirty of more have been engaged. It is not yet known when the keel of the trading steamer Queenstown will be laid, as a difference of opinion has arisen in regard to the model. The boat is, however, expected to be ready for service before many months.

CREDIT AND CASH

Sir,—Mr. Ashby has questioned the accuracy of my statement that under the present financial system money is created as a debt by private institutions. In support, he produces several bills all "issued," as he says, by the Bank of Canada, assuming presumably that the policy of this bank is directed by the Government, which it is not.

It is a common belief, fostered no doubt by those who benefit, that a government issues money and the illusion is heightened by such examples as Mr. Ashby produced. He might just as easily have exhibited coins bearing the King's head and the insignia or coat of arms of the Dominion as further proof that the Government issues all money.

Notes and coins are but the small change of business, the stuff in use in the "cash and carry," but in Canada over 90 per cent of all transactions take place merely by the transfer of cheques and a corresponding entry in a bank ledger. This is sometimes referred to as pen and ink money or bookkeeping entries.

The president of the Federal Reserve Bank recently reminded us that "banks can create and destroy money—bank credit is money—it is the money we do most of our business with, not with that currency which we usually think of as money."

The volume of this credit money governs the volume of cash in circulation, since the power of the central bank to emit cash is unlimited. In other words, the total volume of currency is regulated by the banking system in accordance with the "pocket money" requirements of the people.

The arrangements by which banks obtain further cash is provided for under the Finance Act. The actual minting or printing has nothing to do with issuing. The Government does not issue any money direct. It borrows every penny from the banks as a debt, bearing interest, though why it should continue still to do this is a mystery to most monetary reformers because banks create money out of nothing, a statement which needs no further proof, if such were needed, than the way the Allied nations continue to build up their debt into the billions. Where did all the money come from? The volume of cash has altered very little since the beginning of the war.

The solution to the mystery raised by Mr. Ashby is intimately connected with the cause and prosecution of this war and the type of peace we are going to be told is necessary.

People interested in this whole subject will obtain help from the Democratic Monetary Reform Organization of Canada, a purely educational and non-party movement, whose local office is in the Pemberton Building.

SHORTAGE OF POTATOES

Sir,—The weatherman may have contributed a fractional percentage toward the shortage we are now saddled with in the way of marketable potatoes and resultant soaring of the shortage, and very rightly so, prices therefore, but the true source is that the Chinese growers, harassed by an illy conceived and formed Provincial Government Vegetable Control Board, simply turned their industrious efforts into other more remunerative channels, comparatively free of all highly questionable interference, exhorbitant board charges and poor price returns for the supposed handling of the "spuds." As a matter of fact, in many instances, there was no return—just a peremptory notice that so many tons were unsaleable and must be taken away and destroyed forthwith at the expense of the grower; or the board would do the job, and charge the grower with the expense! Taken where? The board wouldn't know or care, so long as it got them off its hands.

The writer helped to grow and market potatoes years ago for the very simple reason that the cold-storage plants and their attendant transportation - refrigerators could not control them; but, the board has it on them "like a tent," or has it?

A WOMAN WELDER

Sir,—Our early morning newscast brought us a news comment from Victoria, B.C. Unhappily it was not a comment in which a former Victorian could take pride. It was in regard to the attitude of fellow workers of Mrs. Ethel Harvey, employed as a welder in one of your shipbuilding yards. It is most regrettable that such incidents should occur and be broadcast throughout the American continent, as there are still people looking for just such incidents to use to create disunity between the United States and Canada. It is on just such small things as this that propaganda is based.

At this very moment men are giving up their lives in order that we people of the United Nations, who love freedom, may live in peace and have the right to choose our own way of living, a way in which every man, woman and child may choose their own vocation without fear. Mrs. Harvey has chosen to be a welder, and an excellent one the report states, and her right to work as a welder and accept employment as such, seems unalterable to me.

May I remind the gentlemen working with Mrs. Harvey that for some time now the women of Russia, England and China have been holding the back lines by taking over difficult and skilled jobs in war plants in order that their men may be released to hold the front lines against an enemy who, if victorious, would place us all in bondage, and give us little choice as to who would work and what job they would do. The duty of all freedom-loving peoples is clear. We must stand by one another, shoulder to shoulder, putting aside all personal and petty feelings, and do the job we best can do until peace comes once more to this troubled world.

I believe the majority of the women of the world, now employed in wartime work, will gladly go back to their age-old duty of tending their homes when they know those homes are safe from the enemy and their men released to take up their former peacetime occupations once again.

One final word. I would like to salute Mrs. Harvey's employer for his democratic stand in the matter.

B.C. ELECTRIC NOW OPERATES JAPANESE TEA GARDEN AS PARK

It was pointed out yesterday by the B.C. Electric Railway Company that the Japanese who operated the tea gardens within the company's park at the Gorge, are no longer in charge. The gardens and buildings have been taken over by the company, and are now being maintained as a park only for the benefit of the community.

The company also reports that acts of vandalism recently have taken place within the park and the buildings in connection with the park, and points out that, as the park and buildings are the property of the company, further depredations will be prosecuted.

Russians Falling Back in Crimea

coming Nazi offensive from at least three points toward the oil wealth of the Caucasus, an offensive backed by 2,000,000 of Hitler's best combat troops now reported massed in the Ukraine.

Informed London sources said the Germans could be expected to smash at Rostov from Taganrog, above the Sea of Azov, and to attack in force southeast from Kharkov.

As for Kerch itself competent London informants said "the key to the situation is in the air."

"If the Germans can control the air they can keep the Russian Black Sea fleet away, smash resistance on the peninsula and prepare to jump the strait to take the Caucasus defences of Rostov from the rear," one source said.

But, he added, if the Russians could maintain air parity there is little likelihood of outstanding German success even if Kerch, at the eastern end of the peninsula, were taken, for then the Germans would not be able to negotiate the few miles across the strait.

GERMANY'S CLAIMS

Earlier in the day the Germans claimed the Russian lines had been broken; that 40,000 prisoners had been captured, and that the battle had been "decided" by an assault of 2,000 Nazi dive bombers.

The German High Command said the battle was "concluded" with destruction of enemy forces encircled and overrun, and that "remnants" of the Russian peninsular force were being pursued toward the tip of the isthmus.

Both here and in Moscow, information so far available indicates that Kerch activity is only a prelude to later, large-scale operations.

A London source said: "Initial reports of the German attack on Kerch indicate that Hitler is following the well-known German tactic of looking for a soft spot to make a break through, then pouring everything into it."

A first round finesse for a queen, when declarer has ten trumps, usually is a "suicide play." However, like everything else in bridge, "it all depends."

3 ♣	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

Pass	Pass	Pass

East's double of four spades was questionable and West's leave-in of the redouble was no better.

West opened the club king and, when East played a low card, shifted to a low heart. Dummy's ace won and declarer saw at a glance that he would have to conserve the few entries that were in dummy. Despite East's double of the four spade contract, it was by no means attractive to take a first round finesse against the spade queen when holding ten trumps in the combined hands. Theoretically, it would be far better to lay down the king; then, if West failed to follow, to re-enter dummy and finesse through East's marked queen. In this case, however, no such safety factor could be used because, as declarer clearly saw, it would later be necessary to take two finesses in the diamond suit. It was immediately obvious that final success depended on a favorable position of the outstanding diamond honors, but even if that situation existed, it would be necessary for declarer to plan his play in such a way as to take advantage of it.

On this sound analysis, declarer, having won with the heart ace, led the spade jack through East and, when the latter naturally played low, let the jack ride. (It would have done East no good to cover the jack.) Now when West showed out, the trump suit was temporarily abandoned and a diamond was led from dummy. East played low and declarer played the nine spot, noting with pleasure that this lost, not to the dreaded 10, but to the king. West returned a heart and declarer ruffed. Then the ace and king of spades were led, followed by the jack of clubs. West won and returned another heart. Declarer ruffed with the 10 spot and led a low spade to dummy's nine. The club queen was cashed and declarer discarded a diamond. Now the second diamond finesse was tried. When the jack held it was all over. The redoubled contract had been fulfilled.

EXAMINATION RESULTS OF VICTORIA COLLEGE

SUCCESSFUL students in Victoria College's final examinations, results of which were released by the senate of the University of British Columbia yesterday, are classified according to percentages they achieved.

Those securing first class honors made 80 per cent or better, those securing second class 65 to 79 per cent, and those passing 50 to 64 per cent. In addition, certain students secured grades sufficient to carry them with supplemental examinations in certain subjects.

Partial students are classified only under individual subjects.

Students who are entitled to supplementals may improve their standing by writing the supplemental examinations held in September. Those who, on account of illness, have been granted deferred examinations, may write these at the time of the September supplementals. Students who intend to proceed to applied science at the University of British Columbia, have completed the work of the first year in arts and science, but have not obtained the standing required in certain subjects for admission to applied science, may likewise remove deficiencies by taking the September examinations.

MAY WRITE SUPPLEMENTALS

A student is granted a supplemental in a subject which he has taken during the year, provided he has obtained a mark of not less than 30 per cent on the final examination. A candidate, however, will not be granted supplementals in more than six units of work. All students who may write supplementals will receive written notification from the registrar's office.

Scholarships and prizes awarded annually at the college were won this year by ten students.

Selection has not yet been made of the winner of the Kiwanis Scholarship of $100 awarded to a man student completing first year and entering second year at Victoria College. The winner is named following a conference between members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club and the college faculty.

The college authorities gave honorable mention to students who have taken highest place in their years and in individual subjects.

Where awards are conditional, the prizes or scholarships will go by reversion to other candidates if the stipulations of the donors are not fulfilled.

Scalloped Breakfast Coat

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern 4013

ISN'T it true that you work better when you're neatly dressed? The Breakfast Coat, Pattern 4013, is Anne Adams' own idea of a practical style you can slip on early in the morning and wear all day long. The scalloped bodice is so cheery—the wrap-around closing is so convenient and comfortable, you'll surely need more than one version. Make another, using brilliant color contrast for the optional pocket, the belt and the scalloped cap sleeve. This cap sleeve may also be used on a dress without contrast, and three-quarter sleeves or long sleeves are still another choice. A Sewing Instructor helps you to sew quickly any one—or all versions. Order now and be the "best-dressed housewife" in town!

Pattern 4013 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3¼ yards 35-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Eighteen Lowest Age of Recruits

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP).—The Canadian Women's Army Corps, which used to limit enlistment to women twenty-one years of age and up, now is accepting recruits over the age of eighteen, C.W.A.C. officials said today.

In a story yesterday on the new Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service, The Canadian Press referred to the C.W.A.C. and said its minimum age limit was twenty-two.

However, the eighteen-year rule has been in effect for some weeks, officials said today, although no official announcement of the change has been made.

Douglas, and a number of historical novels written since the war began. A Bible knowledge quiz and other contests carried out the theme of the evening. Miss Patricia Orr, assisted by Miss Ruth Turner, conducted the worship service. EXPLANATION

An old lady approached an air raid warden and asked if he could explain the various warnings to her as she did not quite understand them.

"Certainly, mum!" he replied. "When you hear a noise like this (imitates siren) that is the alarm and you must go to your air raid shelter, and when you hear a noise like this (stamping his foot on the floor) that is bombs dropping, and then if you hear a noise like harps playing, you will know that your air raid shelter is no good!"

Recruiting for Wrens to Start Within a Month

Initial Training Will Take Place in Eastern Canada —Details of Uniform Given by Superintendent Joan Carpenter

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP). — The Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service will be recruited within a month, it was announced at a press conference here today.

Superintendent Joan Carpenter of the British Women's Naval Service, who is in Canada to organize a sister group, told the conference she hadn't many facts to give out about the new women's service, but she is conferring constantly with Canadian naval authorities.

She said that at the moment the Wrens, Canadian version, aren't ready to receive applications. There will be notices in the press as to when recruiting will begin. Probably a basic group of fifty women would be chosen from the first applications for outstanding qualities of leadership and personality.

TRAINING IN EAST

Superintendent Carpenter said they will become ratings and will be put through an initial training at a headquarters, probably in Ottawa, where several large houses are under consideration as possible centres. From these pioneers will be chosen the officers, and eventually the commandant of the whole service. When this happens, Superintendent Carpenter and her two assistants, Chief Officer Dorothy Isherwood and Second Officer Elizabeth Mary Sturdee, will return to Britain.

FEMININE SERVICE

A Canadian girl who enlists won't lose any of her femininity while she's a Wren.

"Our service is the most feminine of all services," said Superintendent Carpenter as she remarked that the naval girls were not encouraged to become "heel-walking, masculine persons."

Probably the first uniform issued will be a Summer one of smart shirtwaist dress with stitched linen hat. These will be blue.

The officer wears navy suits of fine blue serge with gold buttons, with their insignia on their sleeves in lighter blue. The braid rankings will be the same as naval officers.

It was explained that all Canadian Wrens will have to enlist as ratings, and promotions will be on merit. No one will be accepted into the service as an officer.

Girls may marry in the service, but that doesn't release them. In England recruits are accepted between seventeen and a half and forty-three, but probably eighteen will be the age limit in Canada.

War Affects Progress Of Y.W.C.A. in Pacific

Mrs. S. H. Frame and Dr. Olga Jardine Give Short Talks at Membership Tea—Many Guests Are Welcomed at Gathering

A brief review of activities and experiences of Y.W.C.A. workers in the Pacific area was given by Mrs. S. H. Frame at the Spring membership tea of the Y.W.C.A., held yesterday afternoon at the association's building; Dr. Olga Jardine, president of the board of directors, in the chair. Mrs. Frame told of many difficulties experienced by Y.W.C.A. workers in New Zealand, where a shortage of help on account of the war had been a handicap, and the restrictions with regard to transportation has seriously affected the progress of the association. In the Philippines, too, the war had greatly hampered the work, and latest reports from Singapore and Burma told of great hardships.

The high cost of food and other necessities was being faced by the workers in China, while, in Japan, the uncertainty of the future and the regulations imposed by the Government were presenting real and worrying difficulties to Y.W.C.A. workers, many of whom, though Japanese, had been educated in Canada and the United States.

CANADIAN Y.W.C.A.

Dr. Jardine spoke a few words on recent activities of the National Council of the Y.W.C.A. in Canada. A new national headquarters, valued with contents at $38,971, had been acquired. Thirty-three hostess houses for the convenience of the families and friends of His Majesty's forces had been established and maintained, and centres for women of the R.C.A.F. and C.W.A.C. had been established. In co-operation with the Government, ten camps for girls engaged in farm service are being maintained. The sum of $53,000 had been raised for the British Y.W.C.A., known in Canada as the Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund for British Service Women.

Since June, 1940, in thirty-one hostess houses and through rooms registry bureaus, 1,772,264 persons had been served. Of this number, 713,009 were servicemen, their families and friends; 32,551 had been directed to inspected lodgings; 13,811 persons had been supplied with paid accommodation, and 1,467 with free overnight accommodation. A total of 1,448 hospital visits had been paid; 31,012 volunteers had assisted; the special wartime clubs had had an attendance of 45,574, and 93,616 persons had attended the dances for servicemen. Altogether, 6,328 young women of the C.W.A.C. and C.W.A.A.F. had been accommodated.

GIFTS TO BE SENT

Before leaving Canada, Hon. Mrs. Arthur Grenfell, president of the British Y.W.C.A., had sent a letter asking for "gifts in kind" for service women in Great Britain, and the following articles, which will be shipped free of charge through the National Y.W.C.A., include replacements for the huts, bed linen, blankets, towels, dish cloths, dusters, colored table mats, bed covers, soap flakes of all kinds, soap, Kleenex, handkerchiefs, writing paper, pins of all kinds, dried fruits, fruit crystals and candies.

Tea was served in the main lounge, which was attractively arranged with a profusion of lilac, tulips and iris. The tea table was beautifully decorated with a large Canton china bowl of pink tulips and mauve lilac, and was presided over by Mrs. John Hart and Mrs. T. S. Gore, members of the board of directors and committees assisting.

RED CROSS

SHAWNIGAN UNIT

A special meeting of the committee of the Shawnigan Unit of the Red Cross was held on Monday afternoon in the Library, with the president, Mr. W. Maitland, in the chair. Following discussion it was decided to change the unit's headquarters from Victoria to Duncan. This step was decided on purely as a means of facilitating and co-operating with the work of the A.R.P. committee, which is working with the Red Cross in manning and supplying the first aid posts. Arrangements for the financial campaign in this district, under the convenership of Mr. C. W. Page, were reported well in hand. Among those suggested as canvassers were Mr. C. Page, Mrs. A. Sutton, Mrs. W. Maitland, Miss P. Furlonge, Mrs. C. G. Jones and Mr. G. H. Garrad.

CORDOVA BAY UNIT

The regular meeting of the Cordova Bay Unit, presided over by Mrs. K. M. Lewis, was held at the home of Mrs. B. S. Dyer, Tuesday afternoon. Various ways of raising funds was discussed, and it was decided to put the "friendship basket" plan into operation at once. Mrs. G. Ross to send out the first basket. Tentative plans to hold a strawberry tea, have a variety concert and weekly home-cooking sales were made, definite arrangements to be made at the next meeting. The members of the unit are anxious to have a course of lectures in first aid given in Cordova Bay, and hope to get the names of enough people to make a class in the course of the next two weeks. Mrs. W. N. Hathway was in charge of a contest in which Mrs. N. A. Thomas won the prize. Mrs. Dyer served tea, assisted by Mrs. K. Genn and Miss Bethel Thomas. The next meeting of the unit will be held at the home of Mrs. Ross on Tuesday, June 9.

Weddings

CATHELS—HAMILTON

A quiet wedding took place on Saturday evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. James Hood, Esquimalt, when Rose Mary, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. M. Hamilton and the late Mr. Hamilton, Keating, was united in marriage to Mr. Jack Cathels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cathels, Victoria.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride looked charming in a gown of pottery rose with hat to match, wearing a corsage of gardenias and lily of the valley. She was attended by Mrs. R. C. Hamilton as matron of honor in a dress of dusty pink, with hat of the same shade. Mr. R. C. Hamilton supported the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Central Saanich Road, Keating, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Hamilton, who wore a floral navy blue dress, and Mrs. Cathel, in a black ensemble, both having corsage bouquets of lily of the valley.

A buffet supper was served to the guests, the table being centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and vases of tulips and narcissi. After a brief honeymoon the young couple will reside in Victoria. Mrs. J. Highsted, Duncan, was an out-of-town guest at the wedding.

WHITE—RODMAN

A quiet wedding took place at 8 o'clock last evening at St. John's Church, Quadra Street, when Muriel Rosalie, fifth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Rodman, Granville Avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold Orville White, second son of Mrs. R. McGinnis, of Vancouver, and the late Mr. E. L. White. Rev. G. Biddle officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a becoming dress of teal blue silk crepe with ruffled neck, a pink and blue floral toque with veil, and beige accessories. Her corsage bouquet was pink rosebuds. Miss Victoria Rodman attended her sister as bridesmaid in a pale blue corded silk dress with lace yoke and bolero jacket, a rose turban and white accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of pink carnations. Mr. Jack Knowles supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception for relatives and intimate friends was held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Langley, Lansdowne Road, sister of the bride, where Mrs. Rodman, in a becoming printed coral and grey silk dress with hat to match, and Mrs. Laycock, aunt of the groom, in a two-tone dress of blue and black, with a black hat trimmed with mauve flowers, received the guests. They both wore corsage bouquets of carnations. For going away the bride donned an old rose colored coat with a blond fur collar over her wedding ensemble. After a honeymoon on the Mainland, the young couple will make their home in Vancouver. Among the gifts received was a table, household linen and a silver sandwich tray from former associates of the bride in David Spencer, Ltd.

HOME LEAGUE

The Home League of the Victoria West Corps will give a concert at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Salvation Army Hall, corner of Catherine and Edward Streets. Mrs. (Adjutant) A. Dale, Vancouver, will preside and will also be the guest speaker at the week-end meetings, which will be conducted by members of the Home League.

Social Is Held At James Bay

A social gathering and entertainment was given by the James Bay Branch of the Mothers' Union on Monday evening, in the Cathedral School Hall, Niagara Street, when the guests were members of His Majesty's Forces. The programme started with a presentation to the enrolling member, Mrs. E. Mildon, who was piped to the stage by Pipe-Major Jessie Pollock and Nancy Chalmers. Representatives of the three services had places on the platform. Mrs. Mildon was presented with a "mystery" parcel and a bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley tied with blue ribbon, by little Doreen Sheriff. A toast, "Mother Machree," was sung by the audience, and Mr. F. W. Harvey was at the piano. Community singing was followed by words of welcome by Major F. V. Longstaff, who called for cheers for the convener, Mrs. Zoe Harvey.

Taking part in the programme were the following: Miss Elaine Harte, soprano, who sang "Madeline" and "One Kiss"; Mr. J. Oakman, tenor, in "I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby" and "Sunrise and You," Mrs. C. C. Warn playing the accompaniments for the soloists; Joy Merriman, ventriloquist; Mrs. F. Noel, who sang "Slave Song" and "False Prophet"; Mr. V. Barker, who gave monologues; selections by the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band, presented by Pipe-Major Jessie Pollock; a comedy song by Barbara McVie; song and dance by Enid Middleton and Shirley Anderson, with Mrs. Cockrell at the piano; a sword dance by Nancy Chalmers with Pipe-Major Jessie Pollock as accompanist; and a Mexican dance by Peggy McVie and Jessie Pollock.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. T. MacIntyre, Mrs. A. Kermode, Mrs. H. C. Ingall, Mrs. S. F. Perry and Mrs. T. Stewart, after which dancing was enjoyed, the evening closing with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and cheers for the troops.

Little Stories for Bedtime

The Hunt for the Lost Baby

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

No one ever forgot that great hunt through the Green Forest for Unc' Billy Possum's lost baby. Everybody took part. Happy Jack Squirrel, Chatterer the Red Squirrel, Striped Chipmunk, Johnny Chuck, Jimmy Skunk, Danny Meadow Mouse, Bobby Coon, Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, even old Mr. Toad, Billy Mink and Little Joe Otter came up from the Smiling Pool. Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow, who seldom do anything for any one but themselves, helped in the great hunt. You see, they had all learned to think a great deal of Unc' Billy Possum.

They looked in hollow trees and old logs. They peaked under rocks and behind old stumps. Every place that they could think of where Baby Possum might hide was looked into, but no trace of the lost baby could they find. Every once in a while one of them would came across Reddy Fox. Reddy always appeared to have no interest at all in the search, but the minute he thought he was alone, down went his sharp little nose to the ground and he ran swiftly this way and that way, hunting for the tracks of the lost baby possum.

For a while Reddy was badly puzzled, for you see he found the tracks made by the seven other Possum children when they had been playing about with their mother. But by and by he found one lone, little track that led away from the others. Reddy gave a little yelp of delight and began to gallop along the trail. And as he ran his mouth watered, for he was thinking of what a good dinner he would find at the end of the trail. The more he thought of it the faster he hurried, for he was dreadfully afraid that someone else would find the lost baby.

Now, all the time Peter Rabbit was following Reddy Fox, though Reddy Fox didn't know it. Peter Rabbit had guessed what was in Reddy's heart and he knew just how keen Reddy's nose is. So Peter had made up his mind that Reddy would be the one likely to find Unc' Billy Possum's lost baby, and that when he did—Peter didn't like to think what would happen.

And Behind Reddy Fox Dodged Peter

So Peter patiently followed Reddy Fox, dodging from tree to tree, so that Reddy would not see him. He heard Reddy yelp when he found the trail, and Peter knew what it meant. This way and that way wound the crooked trail where the little baby Possum had wandered, under fallen trees, into hollow logs, up on old mossy stumps. Patiently but eagerly Reddy Fox followed, and as he ran his mouth watered more and more. He grinned wickedly as he remembered how old Mrs. Possum had said that she hoped he would find her lost baby.

And behind Reddy Fox dodged Peter Rabbit, never once losing sight of Reddy, but keeping out of sight himself. Suddenly Reddy lifted his nose and sniffed. Then he sniffed again. He had reached the end of the trail and he could smell the baby possum himself!

Peter Rabbit saw Reddy Fox stop and look up in a black birch tree. Peter looked, too. What he saw made him nearly give himself away by laughing out loud.

Next Story—What Peter Rabbit Saw.

Millers said it couldn't be done

YET HERE IT IS! White flour with natural Vitamin B Complex of the Whole Wheat kept in!

THIS NEW white flour holds wheat's natural B vitamins just as nature stored them in the nourishing wheat germ!

"Cold Roll" milling has made it possible. This new process mills most of the germ along with the starchy part of the wheat. Only the bran is removed.

The result is Vitamin B Kitchen Craft White Flour — with about five times as much of vitamin B_1 (thiamin) as in regular white "patent" flour!

Vitamin B Kitchen Craft White Flour provides not less than 400 International Units of vitamin B_1 per pound. It is also richer in riboflavin and other recognized members of the vitamin B complex.

And remember, these are vitamins naturally present in whole grain — they are not specially mixed-in vitamins.

You'll like the richer, more wheaty flavor this white flour lends to your breads and cakes. You'll like the difference in its color, not "chalk" white, but an appetizing, creamy-type white.

Vitamin B Kitchen Craft White Flour requires no change in your recipes. It is all-purpose home-type white flour of highest quality. Milled in Canada of best Canadian wheats. Guaranteed to give successful results and to keep at least 2 years under normal conditions.

Montcalm Arrives Safely at Russian Port of Murmansk

Canadian Icebreaker, Placed at Disposal of Soviet Government, Will Remain in Sub-Arctic Waters for Duration of War

OTTAWA, May 13 (CP).—The Canadian icebreaker Montcalm has arrived safely in Northern Russia and will remain at the service of the Soviet Government for the duration of the war, it was announced today by the Department of External Affairs.

The Montcalm is the second Canadian icebreaker to serve in those waters under war conditions. Toward the end of the first Great War an icebreaker, newly built at Glasgow for the Canadian Government, was loaned to Russia by the British Government, with the consent of Canada.

The Montcalm is a ship of 1,432 gross tons and has been in the Canadian service for many years on the St. Lawrence River and Atlantic coast.

CANADIAN CREW

The ship sailed from Canada under the command of Captain F. S. Slocombe, of Toronto, one of the permanent officials of the Department of Transport, and with a crew of sixty officers and seamen all signed up in Canada.

The master and crew were to deliver the ship to the Russians, who will operate it themselves. The Canadians are expected back in Canada shortly.

Final arrangements regarding the financial aspect of the transfer have not been settled and officials were unable to say whether the ship is being sold or chartered to Russia.

Placing the ship at the disposal of the Russians represents a considerable gift on the part of the Canadian Government as it leaves the Transport Department with none too many icebreakers to carry on the work of keeping Canadian waters open during the season when icebreaking operations are necessary, officials said.

IN WHITE SEA

The ship is believed to be now in service in the White Sea, keeping the water passage between Murmansk and Archangel open for the movement of troops and supplies for the Russian forces.

The Canadian icebreaker which went to the White Sea during the last war was called Kosma Minin by the Russians. She plied between Murmansk and Archangel, opening the way for convoys to reach the latter port. The Kosma Minin passed through many adventures of war and revolution and eventually reached Canada, where she was called the Mikula and assumed the more prosaic task of opening up the St. Lawrence River ship channels each Spring.

SEATTLE FISHERMEN DROP REGULATIONS IN HALIBUT AREAS

VANCOUVER, May 13 (CP).—W. T. Burgess, secretary of the United Fishermen's Federal Union, said here today that Seattle fishermen have agreed to drop regulations curtailing halibut fishing in Area 3 off the Pacific Coast and partly forego them in Area 2, following a request from the United States Navy.

Area 3 takes in the Far North fishing grounds and Area 2 farther south.

The Seattle fishermen plan to cut the lay-up time between trips of their boats from the present nine days to eight in Area 2 and to boost the catch to 100 pounds per man.

British Columbia fishermen have notified the Seattle men they wish to adhere to the per-man regulations in Area 2, though they are not concerned over Area 3.

FREIGHT CARS NEEDED

Carriage of privately owned automobiles in connection with passenger tickets will be discontinued on the Northern Pacific Railway, June 1, according to advices received by Leslie Pelling, manager of the Paulin Travel Bureau and local agent for the line, yesterday.

Reluctant to make the step, the railroad has found it necessary to make available every possible freight car to take care of the demand for handling defence supplies.

Whaling Vessels Make Port After 'Nightmare Trip'

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—A group of whalers which Britain has used two years for mine-sweeping has arrived at the Soviet supply port of Murmansk for service with the Red Fleet, the Ministry of Information said last night.

The whalers were handed over to the Russians at the Arctic port after what one British officer called "a nightmare trip" through ice formations, mists, gales, floating mine fields and bombing attacks.

The officer said steam hoses were useless against the ice formations three and four feet thick on the decks and the wheelhouse of his ship.

"Finally we had to abandon our course and turn and run before the wind so that all hands could get to work with pickaxes and hack the ice away," he added. "We cleared forty tons in an hour. It was as hard as concrete."

UNION MACHINISTS OF VANCOUVER REFUSE TO ASSIST IN PROGRAMME

VANCOUVER, May 13 (CP).—The Vancouver Machinists' Union has decided to maintain its stand against acceptance of the continuous production programme introduced this month in British Columbia shipyards, a spokesman for the union said today.

Nine other unions in the yards have accepted the programme, which provides for a seven-day week on a staggered system with elimination of overtime for week-end work. Only the machinists and blacksmiths in the Vancouver yards have refused to co-operate.

Machinists in Victoria yards yesterday announced their intention of co-operating in the plan.

SURVIVORS OF SHIP LANDED

United States Merchant Vessel Torpedoed Off West Coast of Africa

NORFOLK, Va., May 13 (AP).—Forty-four survivors, including an eight-man navy-gun crew, of a medium-sized American merchant ship torpedoed off the west coast of Africa early in April, were landed at Norfolk May 9 by a passenger vessel, which also brought missionaries and other Americans from Africa.

No members of the regular crew or the gun-crew were lost, but nine of a sixty-five-man crew of African longshoremen were killed in the attack and another died en route to port, the Navy disclosed in announcing the sinking today.

Captain Turlief G. Selness of Brooklyn, N.Y., told naval officers here that his ship was struck at night by one torpedo, but did not sink immediately. The crew was ordered to lower the lifeboats in the event there should be another attack.

A rescue vessel took the survivors aboard and remained in the vicinity. The next day Captain Selness and several crewmen boarded the torpedoed ship and inspected it. An attempt was made to tow her to a nearby harbor, the captain related, but the water was coming in too fast to make any headway and the crew was ordered to abandon ship. When last seen the stricken craft was party under water with only part of her deck and stern showing.

Dismiss Illegal Strike Charges Against Workers

KINGSTON, Ont., May 13 (CP).—Charges of striking illegally laid against five employees of the Kingston Shipbuilding Company following a strike which ended last April 22 were dismissed here today.

Charged were W. E. Blair, John Montgomery, Joseph Sharpe, James Rice and W. Bradley. The strike was called April 20 in sympathy with a strike at Midland, Ont., shipyards. When settlement was reached in the Midland strike the Kingston strikers returned to work.

J. L. Cohen, defence counsel, argued today that there was no evidence of dispute between the workers and the company and it would be impossible to register a conviction with no evidence of dispute. The company had issued a statement at the time of the strike saying it had no dispute with the workers.

Dispose of More Than 800 Former Japanese Boats

VANCOUVER, May 13 (CP).—More than 800 fishing vessels, formerly operated by Japanese in British Columbia waters and interned when Japan entered the war, have been transfrred to white fishermen or the Royal Canadian Navy by the disposal committee handling their sale, it was announced here today by A. E. McMaster, committee manager.

More than 700 of the craft are now back in commercial fishing. The others will be used for naval or other Government purposes.

More than 400 vessels have still to be disposed of.

SUN CHARIOT HEADS FIELD

NEWMARKET, England, May 13 (CP).—The King's stable completed a rare double at Newmarket today when Sun Chariot won the One Thousand Guineas Stakes for three-year-old fillies after the Royal colt Big Game took the Two Thousand Guineas classic yesterday. Sun Chariot was the even money favorite.

It was the first time since 1902 that one stable had won both events and the first time Royal entries ever won both.

The race also marked a classic double for the King's jockey, Gordon Richards, and placed him at the head of the winning riders' list for the first time this season.

The three-year-old Sun Chariot, tional Stud for a racing career, cantered home a four-length winner over Lord Glanely's Perfect Peace.

The time was 1:39 3-5 for the mile course. The Countess of Derby's long shot Light of Day was third.

Today's victory was the sixteenth in the classic series for the King's trainer, Fred Darling. It was the seventh classic triumph for Richards.

Sun Chariot, beaten once in seven starts, has poured more than $30,000 in the Royal coffers.

WILL PURCHASE AN AMBULANCE

Saanich to Secure Second Vehicle if Priorities Board Agrees

The committee in charge of the recent Saanich A.R.P. ambulance campaign last night decided by resolution to purchase a one-ton panel delivery truck, which will be fitted out for emergency use, and, subject to the approval of the Priorities Board at Ottawa, to call later for tenders for a second truck.

Members set aside $1,750 for the first ambulance, this sum to provide also for its outfitting. The vehicle will be equipped with two stretchers, and will have sufficient accommodation for four or five sitting cases.

NAME SUB-COMMITTEE

A sub-committee, consisting of Acting Reeve E. C. Warren, George Randall, Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer; E. A. Bleathman and Councillor George Austin, will later call for tenders for the second ambulance.

The treasurer of the ambulance fund committee has so far received $4,293.11 in cash and pledges, and the group, whose objective was $4,000, has further pledges still to come in.

Funds available after the ambulances are purchased and equipped will be used to outfit twenty-five panel delivery trucks with a stretcher, camp stools and other necessities, and any balance left over will be devoted to the purchase of A.R.P. equipment, Reeve Warren said.

PREPARE BALANCE SHEET

A balance sheet will be prepared and copies submitted to all committeemen, and the audited statement will later be published in the press, Mr. Warren added. Canvassers, to whom Mr. Warren expressed his thanks, will be sent letters of appreciation for their work.

The reeve explained that he had already wired R. W. Mayhew, M.P., requesting him to use his good offices in expediting the release of a second ambulance for Saanich, and that a reply was expected shortly.

Mr. Warren asked all canvassers with subscription books still in their possession to return them to their ward chairmen as soon as final collections have been made.

WORKERS ARE THANKED

The meeting passed a hearty vote of thanks to all canvassers, and also to the students of Mount View High School for their help in the campaign in Ward Seven. Mr. Warren pointed out that workers had given their services voluntarily and had served without remuneration of any kind.

Attending last night's meeting were the following ward chairmen: George Yardley, George Randall, J. S. Humphries, George Maynard, W. O. Wallace and Frank Tupman. Councillor J. L. Hobbs reported for Ernest Heybroek, who was unavoidably absent. C. P. Ennals, secretary to Captain E. D. W. Levien, chief A.R.P. officer for the municipality, also attended, together with Miss Helen Elliott and Walter Tribe, of the corporation's staff.

PLAN BENEFIT DANCE

"You have all done a good job. Doing it on such short notice, and prior to the Red Cross drive, shows how much effort you put into the campaign, and on behalf of the municipality I wish to thank you all very sincerely," Mr. Warren told the group.

On May 22, employees of the municipality will hold their annual ball at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, and proceeds from it will be turned over to the ambulance committee.

FOURTEEN LOST WHEN SHIPS SUNK

he was not deviating from a policy laid down yesterday of not announcing future sinkings, which might provide information of value to the enemy.

"These ships have been sunk in about the same waters and at about the same time. I think I can regard it as one incident and not within the scope of prohibition I laid upon myself yesterday," he told the House.

In future, the policy of secrecy would be enforced, he said; and this was considered particularly important because of comment carried today in German radio broadcasts referring to the sinking of the first freighter in the St. Lawrence.

GLEE IN GERMANY

Mr. Macdonald continued: "This morning the German radio announced with great glee that a ship had been sunk in the St. Lawrence by one of their submarines; that this was the greatest distance from home their submarines had ever operated; that the whole thing had produced tremendous consternation in Canada; that the department had declared that no further announcements would be made; that this was an indication of our consternation, and generally they played the news up to the utmost degree."

OBVIOUS IMPORTANCE

"It is obvious that if they attach such importance to the matter we should attach similar importance to it and we cannot dash around giving out information which may in any way endanger the safety and lives of our men or the safety of Allied property for the sake of gratifying any group of people, no matter how important they may be," the minister said.

He added that information that a second ship had been sunk was not received by the department until after yesterday's announcement was issued.

Location of the sinkings was described merely as "in the St. Lawrence River." Anticosti Island is regarded in naval circles as the dividing point between the river and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Consequently, it was assumed the sinkings occurred somewhere west of the island.

OFFICER'S STORY

A ST. LAWRENCE RIVER PORT, May 13 (CP).—Fourteen crewmen are dead or missing and there are seventy-four survivors from the German torpedoing of two freighters in the St. Lawrence River, Monday night, a rescued officer told a Canadian Press correspondent here tonight.

Here briefly is the officer's story: One freighter was struck by two torpedoes and the entire crew of forty-six reached shore in boats. The second freighter was struck about the same time by a single torpedo and twenty-nine crewmen were picked up by another ship and taken to a nearby port. From this ship thirteen men are missing and another died from exposure after being taken from the water by the rescue ship.

Previous reports were that eighty-seven or eighty-eight were rescued, including a mother and child, and that two were missing. Navy Minister Macdonald in announcing at Ottawa today that a second ship went down in the same locality and about the same time as the one he had announced yesterday did not amplify his previous statement that forty-one had been landed safely.

STRUCK TWICE

First survivor interviewed, the officer did not give his name. He said that despite the fact the first freighter was struck by two torpedoes she did not sink for twenty minutes, giving her crew time to put off in boats.

The second freighter went down in six minutes after being struck only once. Most of the missing men were asleep at the time, the officer said. However, twenty-nine of the crew of forty-two managed to cling to rafts until they were picked up by a third ship. He said that some of the twenty-nine were injured and are now being treated at a hospital in a nearby fishing town.

On the way to port in the rescue ship one crewman died from exposure and he was buried today with merchant marine honors and most of the survivors attending.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

After the single torpedo struck the second ship, the officer said, "A terrific explosion followed and she began to settle immediately." He said the sailors jumped over the side with lifebelts as there was no time to launch the boats. The water was icy, he said, and most of the men swam for two hours before being picked up.

He said none of the survivors saw the submarine and only the torpedoes indicated its presence. He did not comment further on the sinkings.

A Canadian Press correspondent had previously reported the landings at tiny coves of boats and rafts bearing survivors. The night before fishermen in the area were aroused by the roar of a terrific explosion offshore.

A tight censorship of all St. Lawrence River points made it difficult to obtain a clear picture of the sinkings.

A report, still unconfirmed, was that residents along the river heard gunfire—possibly indicating a battle between freighters and the sub, first enemy raider to invade the big river.

LITTLE THEATRE REVIEWS YEAR

Annual Meeting Held and Reports of Past Activities Given

A resume of the past year's activities was given at the annual meeting of the Victoria Little Theatre last evening, when reports were read, showing that the programme decided upon earlier in the year had been successfully carried out. This had included the production of four full-length plays and three evenings of one-act plays, it was reported by the secretary, Mr. H. J. S. Reynolds.

The production on May 27 and 28 of the comedy drama "Ladies in Retirement" will bring to a close one of the most successful seasons in the history of the Little Theatre here. The plays already produced were "Mystery at Greenfingers," under the direction of Mr. Vaughan Barker; "Lovers' Leap," directed by Mrs. Kirby, and "Dangerous Corner," directed by Mrs. Chanter. "Ladies in Retirement" is being produced under the direction of Mrs. Yvonne Stevenson, who has had many years' professional experience.

Entertainment has been provided throughout the year for the men of the forces, "Lovers' Leap" having been played at the Naval Barracks, Esquimalt, and at the R.A.F. camp at Patricia Bay.

THANKS FOR HELP

The president, Mr. Harry J. Davis, in a short report, thanked all those who had helped to make the season a success. He mentioned the great improvement which had been made to the theatre and grounds during the year, and made special reference to the work of Mr. L. Lamb and Mr. Pat Hannington, who had charge of all back-stage work. He mentioned the death of Lady Barnard, who had been one of the most loyal supporters of the association. He specially thanked the press for publicity and thanked Mr. Anthony Williams for his help in staging two of the plays and Mr. J. M. Willows for his great assistance in providing properties and furniture for the productions.

The work of the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Press had proved a valuable and integral part of the organization.

FINANCES IMPROVE

Mr. Reynolds stated that the assets of the organization were increasing and that with a larger membership it would not be long before the financial condition would be completely satisfactory. Overhead expenses had been great, but generous gifts had been gratefully received and were a help in decreasing the liabilities.

Two amusing one-act plays were presented, the first under the direction of Mrs. V. DesBrisay and the second under the direction of Miss Connie Thompson. Incidental music was furnished by the Little Theatre Orchestra.

About 120 members and friends attended the meeting, and an appeal was made by the president to each member that during the coming season an effort be made to increase the membership.

MOCK AIR RAIDS OVER TRURO CITY

TRURO, N.S., May 13 (CP).—Airplanes droning over this town tonight "bombed" vital sections with bags of flour, and military observers said later damage would have been heavy had live bombs been used.

The "air defence exercise," first of a series to be held in the next few months, was carried out by planes from an army co-operation squadron attached to a Canadian armored division stationed at nearby Debert Camp. Maj.-Gen. P. F. Worthington, officer commanding the division, watched the action.

Fliers taking part in the bombardment included P.O. John Saville, Vancouver; and P.O. James Prendergast, Victoria.

Robert Morley, Rex Harrison and Wendy Hiller Play Leading Roles In Brilliant Comedy

Wendy Hiller, Robert Morley and Rex Harrison share stellar honors in George Bernard Shaw's wittiest and most brilliant comedy, "Major Barbara," which will open today at the York Theatre.

Robert Morley is cast as Undershaft, a millionaire munitions manufacturer. Wendy Hiller is his daughter, "Major Barbara," of the Salvation Army. She violently disapproves of her father's business.

She meets and becomes engaged to Adolphus Cusins played by Rex Harrison, who takes sides with her father.

How the romance between the two people progresses after this turn of events leads to an exciting and unexpected climax and presents a typical Shavian finish.

A.R.P. SERVICE TO BE TESTED

Will Hold Practice in Saanich Municipality Monday, May 18

A test of the A.R.P. services in Saanich municipality, or air-raid practice, will be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening, May 18, Captain E. D. W. Levien, chief A.R.P. officer, announced.

The test, which will be similar in scope to one previously carried out, will bring into action all listed people, including Medical aids, Rescue, also stations. Some six hundred people who have been receiving instructions from Sergeant Eric Leach, and being daily all moving equipment, including fire-fighting apparatus, will be pressed into service.

ASKS FOR BLACKOUT

To make the practice more realistic, Captain Levien appealed to residents to blackout their homes where possible. Such a blackout is a purely voluntary one, but A.R.P. workers would greatly appreciate the cooperation of the citizens of Saanich, he regarded Captain Levien.

[illegible]

TO ISSUE BADGES

Captain Levien has obtained from the municipal council permission to approach the Minister of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa, for the manufacture and issuance of a small silver badge which only A.R.P. workers in British Columbia holding the necessary registration cards may purchase.

The badges will be manufactured in the form of a button or a brooch and are expected to be ready for distribution in about a fortnight.

WILL APPOINT AGENT

A Victoria selling agent has yet to be appointed, Captain Levien said, but he expected that the use of the badges will become general throughout Canada later on.

The emblem, designed by a Victoria resident, consists of Brentwood College John Roberts' bear and crown, at the top, are wreathed about with maple leaves and have the letters "A.R.P." in their centres. The badges will not be sold to the public, being reserved exclusively for assistance to identified A.R.P. personnel.

A PRACTICAL TIRE SAVING PLAN FOR EVERY MOTORIST

IRRESPECTIVE OF THE MAKE OF YOUR TIRES

The Dunlop Tire Saving Plan involves no contracts, no long term or other obligations, and no urging to purchase any service other than what you strictly require. It offers no priority rating to users except on service and strictly within government war regulations. Every Dunlop dealer has committed himself to help Canada's War Effort by absolute adherence to the law. No patriotic motorist would want a dealer to do otherwise.

But the Dunlop Plan does mean that you will serve Canada better by making your tires last longer. [illegible] get more mileage than you ever enjoyed before from your tires . . . and that the service we give you increased driving safety every mile you travel.

MAKE YOUR TIRES LAST LONGER AND BRING VICTORY NEARER
This Card Entitles Bearer To Preferred Service Under The DUNLOP TIRE SAVING PLAN
DUNLOP
A1456

First Instituted in August, 1941

Nine months ago Dunlop-Canada presented, for the first time in Canada, a wartime tire saving service dedicated to the conservation of one of the most precious assets in the world today . . . RUBBER.

That Tire Saving Service is still benefiting many Canadians and is still available . . . not only to Dunlop users BUT TO ALL MOTORISTS, IRRESPECTIVE OF THE MAKE OF TIRES ON THEIR CARS.

No Needless or Unnecessary Expense Work Done Only When Required

Remember, under the Dunlop Tire Saving Plan, no unnecessary work is recommended or undertaken. It is an intelligent Tire Saving Plan under which work is done only when it is needed and all such work is performed on A MINIMUM COST BASIS. In other words, the motorist pays only where actual service is necessary, and then pays a minimum charge. The Dunlop Tire Saving Service, too, is helpful to all. Careful drivers under this plan naturally pay less than careless drivers. Those driving long mileages should pay for more necessary services or repairs as the case may be. We feel this is more beneficial to the greater number of motorists rather than by averaging the service charge all. The careful driver is not being penalized and is not asked to pay for the abusive driver, or the one who is able, even under restrictions, to drive long mileages over hard roads.

Murder on the Avenue

By CAROLYN WELLS
(Copyright, 1942, by Carolyn Wells)

CHAPTER XXXIX

"Yes, please."

"And he and I will see you here

Clarence Bliss was in his partner's private office. He was wondering whether he could take care of Herrick's unfinished business without blunders. Papers were neatly docketed and carefully arranged; Miss Ripley could tell him much about them, but there were knotty points.

Fleming Stone, going in at the noon hour, found Bliss in a despairing mood.

"Did you know that a letter you gave me this morning to give to Herrick was from Michigan?" Stone asked.

"Yes. Is his old uncle dead? There was no black edge, but the thing had a legal look."

"It was from a lawyer, Jason Webb is dead. There are complications."

"There would be!" Bliss scowled. "Complications are what I have got too many of. But sit down, Mr. Stone and tell me all about the passing of Jason Webb. How does it affect Brand?"

Fleming Stone read the eccentric will.

"That all?" Bliss said as Stone finished.

"That's all. Now, Mr. Bliss, what are we going to do about it?"

"Somebody's got to go to Ebbitt's Corners. As Brand is not—er—footloose at present, it looks as if I should have to go."

"You're a quick thinker, sir. And I think you have come to the right conclusion. And about this office?"

"Mr. Stone, this office will have to be closed. It need not mean dissolution of the firm of Herrick & Bliss, but our business must be discontinued—I hope, temporarily."

"Can you manage your disgruntled clients?"

"They won't all be disgruntled. Many will be not only decent about it all, but anxious to help. The rambunctious ones will have to be dealt with. Miss Ripley can help a lot. She is a most capable woman, with unlimited tact. Anyway, Brand must be thought of first. Don't you see trouble ahead, unless we act quickly? To be sure, we have three months to work in, but we are at the disadvantage of distance from the seat of war. For it's going to be war. The village of Ebbitt's Corners has long been hoping for a bequest from Jason Webb's will. Now, they can get it only if Brand Herrick can't fulfill the absurd conditions laid down for him."

"But can he fulfill them?"

my legal knowledge don't you think we can hope for success?"

"If you go to Michigan and cope from there, and I stay here and cope, surely we must accomplish something. I told Herrick you and I would see him tonight. Then you and he can settle about closing this office. Right?"

"Right. But when I think of Brand, under this new load of trouble—"

"Do what you can with the imperative cases, arrange with other lawyers to take over some, notify your influential clients, and get Miss Ripley on her way. I hope to get Herrick out of that place. But the only way is to discover who really did do the murder, and that will take my time and attention. Brand will have to have a lawyer, too. With your investigations you can't take care of that, and you might not be allowed to."

"I know. Don't you think Chadwick would look after him?"

"Chadwick is McCleod's lawyer."

"I can't see how that matters. There won't be so much to do for Brand, and I fancy there's not much to keep Chadwick busy with McCleod's affairs."

"I'd be glad to have Chadwick on the job. I'll ask him today. You know he has a personal interest in Herrick."

"Yes, I know. And he knows Ebbitt's Corners, and all!"

"I'll see him then. So long, Bliss, you have my sympathy."

"I know, Mr. Stone. See you tonight then."

Left alone, Clarence Bliss sat at Herrick's desk, and bowed his head on his arms.

He was not a weakling, but he was unaccustomed to responsibilities, and the thought of closing the office was just about all the could stand. And now, to be suddenly faced with this news about Jason Webb!

It was his place to look after Brand's interests in that little two by four hamlet, and go he would. That is, of course, if Brand agreed to the plan.

He had a session with Miss Ripley, and was amazed anew, to find how wisely she took in the situation, and promised to do her part in arranging the temporary closure of the firm of Herrick & Bliss.

"But he must be got out of that hole he is in," she exclaimed.

As confidential secretary, she had been to see Brand and had been shocked at his surroundings.

"The eternal fitness of things," she went on, "is all out of kilter if he has to live like that! Will Mr. Chadwick get him out?"

"I hope Fleming Stone will get him out. Mr. Chadwick can't do it."

Sharp Reversal Met by Market On Wall Street

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP).—The stock market today met its sharpest reversal since the start of the belated Spring upturn in the closing week of April.

There was enough selling to depress steels, aircraft, farm equipments and other leaders fractions to around 2 points. Some of the chemicals and industrial specialties were pushed down 3 to 5. Most rails also finished with losses.

The Associated Press sixty stock average was down .4 of a point at 33.6. Of the 636 issues traded, 377 declined, ninety-nine advanced and 160 were unchanged.

Dealings of 336,980 shares were about the largest for the last week and compared with 249,200 yesterday.

Many new lows for a year or longer were recorded, including Bethlehem Steel, Republic, Jones & Laughlin, Boeing, Glenn Martin, U.S. Gypsum, Consolidated Oil, Philco, Savage Arms and Westinghouse Air Brake.

Among the principal losers were U.S. Steel, International Harvester, Douglas, Air Reduction, Westinghouse Electric, Dow Chemical, Dupont, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak and Monsanto Chemical.

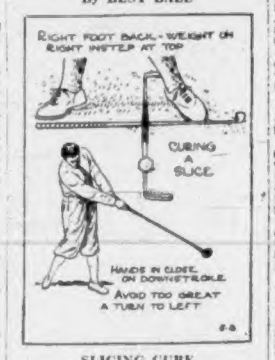
GRAPHIC GOLF

By BEST BALL



SLICING CURE

A slice is commonly caused by drawing the clubhead across the ball from the outside in. The contact between clubface and the ball as the latter travels across from a heel to toe direction adds a slicing spin. While the actual impact results in the error, the trouble might have been started back much further along the line. A right elbow that strays away from the right side in the stroke, a right shoulder that may be coming around too early, or a left side that relaxes and falls away prior to impact; any one of these ailments might have caused the trouble.

A cure might be found in almost any method which would keep the body turning in a better groove. By bringing the right foot back a bit from the line and keeping the pressure on the right instep, the body is prevented from turning around too much. Let the left side point to a parallel direction to the hole, swing the hands close to the body on the downstroke, slanting the effort in a slightly outward direction, and there is every reason to expect a straight ball.

THE BETTER HALF

An elderly woman came into a Birmingham grocer's shop this week and asked for two tins of cocoa.

"Lovely drink," she remarked to the assistant who served her, adding confidentially, "My old man has had it for years. We can't afford beer for both of us."

OF LESS IMPORTANCE

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP).—English Sterling was asked in general sessions today if he didn't think his indictment for murder important. The thirty-year-old negro, one of three men accused of the mistaken identity slaying ten years ago of a New York patrolman, told the court: "No, the only important thing in my life was when my appendix was removed."

GETTING OUT MASKS

LONDON, May 13 (CP).—A Reuter's dispatch from Stockholm today quoted the Swedish newspaper Nya Daglit Allehanda as saying that Berliners are getting out the gas masks which they had put away. "Everybody seems to think the next few days will settle the question of a gas war or no gas war," a story from the paper's Berlin correspondent said.

REFLECTION

A mountaineer found a small mirror lying in the road. He had never seen one before. He looked into it and exclaimed, "Gosh, a picture of Paw." He took it home to show his wife. "Mary," he said, "I've found a picture of Paw."

The wife looked into the mirror. "Picture of Paw nothing," she cried. "That's that old hag you've been running around with."

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to midnight.

Deep-seated prejudices will cause many of the personal dislikes exhibited on May 14 so try to keep your mind cleared of them and endeavor to judge people and their actions with an unbiased mind. Unless you have given some thought to a subject refrain from expressing an opinion on it, if you wish to avoid unkindly comments. Barbed words will hurt and will leave in their wake lacerated feelings that only time will heal, so be on your guard against using them thoughtlessly. Those vested with authority should refrain from using rough-shod methods on persons subject to their orders for they may arouse bitter feelings that eventually may react most unfavorably on their personal affairs. Most of the stumbling blocks the average person will encounter on this date will, in all likelihood, be of his own creating, so be careful that your words and actions are not responsible for your difficulties during the next twenty-four hours, especially if you are a married, engaged or courting person.

If you are a woman and May 14 is your birthday, do not let flattery serve as the open sesame to your heart and pocketbook. Conditions make it advisable for you to plan your day efficiently and to make up your mind that you will not permit anything to interfere with your arrangements of activities. Pleasing discoveries seem to be the order of the day, so you can expect some pleasant surprises. You should possess a decided gift for teaching, business management, work of a promotional nature, writing, selling, or some political form of activity. If you always remember that marriage is a patrnership that requires co-operation and sympathetic understanding, yours is apt to be happy and successful.

The child born on May 14 easily can be helped to form high ideals, regard for the truth, and a desire to be useful, if parents only will devote a little time in the effort to develop them. A magnetic personality, combined with an unusual degree of orginality, may have much to do with this youngster's future successful achievements.

If you are a man and May 14 is your natal day, do not think yourself into assuming the attitude of a Doubting Thomas, if you do not wish to find yourself in an unhappy state of mind. An optimistic outlook can help you to make your life, and the lives of those around you brighter. As a doctor, lawyer, interior decorator, artist, sculptor, author, educator, clergyman, salesman, manufacturer, scientist, engineer, skilled mechanic, politician, actor, or in work requiring demonstration of executive ability, you may find yourself highly regarded and prosperous.
